TWO STRIKEBREAKERS SHOT, ONE MORTALLY, IN INDIANAPOLIS STRIKE

Teamsters and Sympathizers Attack a Wagon—Bullet in Neck for One Victim, Injury in Leg for Other—Police Reserves Called Out to Disperse the Crowd.

Indianapolis, Dec. 5.—Two strikebreakers were shot, one fatally, when a crowd of striking teamsters and sympathizers attacked a wagon of the Coburn Transfer company in West Washington street today.

Jacob Sonenfield, of Chicago, was shot through the neck and his injuries are mortal.

George C. Williams, of Cincinnati, was wounded in the leg.

A large crowd closed around the wagon and hurled bricks and other missiles.

As the strike breakers whipped up their horses a number of shots were fired from the crowd.

The strikers followed the wagon until it reached a fire station. Police reserves were called and dispersed the crowd. Several arrests were made.

HUNDREDS FINDING REFUGE IN TREES FROM HIGH WATER

Many More of Sufferers in Texas Are Marooned in Cotton Gin House.

MADE VICTIMS SECOND TIME BY A NEW FLOOD

Death Total Increasing—Bodies Floating in Swift, Muddy Currents.

Dallas, Texas, Dec. 5.—Hundreds of persons driven from their homes by high water were reported to have taken refuge in trees in the bottom lands about Hearne, the centre of the Texas flood district today.

Many more refugees were marooned in cotton gin houses awaiting rescue.

The flood death toll today was set at 26 but this number may be slightly increased because bodies have been reported floating in the swift, muddy current at several points.

Hundreds of head of live stock have drowned and scores of homes carried away since rivers and creeks began overflowing their banks after the terrific rainfall.

A few towns are asking for tents for the refugees.

Men who were directing the rescue work said they had seen bodies floating in the swollen Brazer River.

GETS FIFTEEN YEARS IN FIFTEEN MINUTES

Steve Chic Found Guilty of Manslaughter of Dmytro Brus—Peter Lyshkum Acquitted.

Winnipeg, Dec. 5—Steve-Chic was this morning found guilty of manslaughter for the death of Dmytro Brus, on the night of November 11, and within 15 minutes after the jury returned the verdict, Judge Pendergast passed sentence of 15 years in the penitentiary.

Peter Lychkum, charged with being an accessory, was acquitted.

WINTER BEGINS IN ENGLAND

First Touch of Season Comes in Squalls of Hail, Sleet and Snow.

London, Dec. 5.—The first touch of winter was experienced yesterday when violent squalls of hail, sleet and snow occurred in many parts of the country. The gale from the northwest and west continued with unabated fury on most parts of the coast and was especially strong over the Irish Sea and Bristol channel.

The Manchester Guardian remarks "there was an absurd disproportion of the police."

The Westminster Gazette says: "It is absurd to describe the arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst as a triumph for the police."

VIVACIOUS DUCHESS WINS KING TO SPITE ERRANT HUSBAND.

London, Dec. 5.—The campaign of the vivacious Duchess of Westminster to win back the affections of her errant husband by making him jealous is highly successful in at least one respect. She has acquired a long string of admirers. The latest addition to the collection of titled admirers following in her wake is said to be no less a personage than King Alfonso of Spain. During a recent visit to Cowes King Alfonso was very attentive to the duchess, and the incident has caused no little gossip in court circles.

HUNGER STRIKE IS STARTED BY MRS. PANKHURST

Militant Suffragettes Inaugurating Violent Methods of Revenge.

USE FIRE AND ACID AND SMASH WINDOWS

Elaborate Preparations of the Police Criticized by Press and People.

Exeter, Dec. 5—Mrs. Pankhurst is said today to be in a state of collapse, having started both a hunger and thirst strike since her arrest on board the Majestic yesterday.

London, Dec. 5—The threat of the militant suffragettes to resort to violent methods of revenge for the arrest of their leader, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, was put into effect this morning with the destruction of a mansion at Wemyss-Bay, Scotland, several attempts to destroy letters by pouring acid into mail boxes here, and numerous isolated cases of window smashing. Moreover, it was stated that women had a plan to do something sensational within the next 24 hours, and the police everywhere kept a strict watch.

In the meantime Mrs. Pankhurst remains in Exeter jail. She has commenced a "hunger strike."

Passengers on the Majestic, on which Mrs. Pankhurst made her voyage across the Atlantic, told of the indignation of the travellers at being detained for over an hour in Plymouth harbor to enable the police to outwit the suffragettes who planned to rescue Mrs. Pankhurst. As one American said: "All this to arrest one little woman" the English press also is inclined to sneer at the elaborate police plans.

JUMP INTO SEA AND THEIR LIVES SAVED

Rescue Ship Unable to Reach Distressed Brig Owing to the Height of the Waves—Line is Brought Into Use and Those Who Take Risk are Snatched From the Ocean.

Halifax, N.S., Dec. 5—The British steamer Invergyle, which was bringing coal from Penarth, G.B., to Halifax, for H.M.S. New Zealand, and which was announced in a Glasgow press despatch as having reported yesterday that she picked up the crew of the British Brig Evelyn, commanded by Captain Roberts, abandoned on November 28, while plying from Beaverton, Ntld., for Glasgow, arrived in Halifax this morning with three seamen of that vessel on board.

The Invergyle was 34 days on the passage after a decidedly rough passage, 10 days over her ordinary time, in good weather. When 12 days out, the low pressure crank shaft was broken. With the greatest difficulty temporary repairs were made.

Thirty hours later they sighted a brig showing signals of distress, which proved to be the Evelyn, leaking and in danger of foundering. With the seas running at great height, they were unable to reach her. A line was run from the stern of the brig, which was fastened to their large boat.

The men were told to fasten lifebelts around them, and jumped into the sea. Three of them who did so, were rescued, though with great difficulty. The captain, mate and others decided to remain by the ship. The next morning the vessels had drifted apart, and after sailing about the brig, was not observable, and they proceeded on their voyage. It is presumed here from the Glasgow report, that the others may have been taken off by some other steamer.

TWO MEN MISSING FROM THEIR HOMES IN CITY

Relatives of Thomas Donnelly and John Hanna Anxious to Hear of Them.

Two men, who have been missing from their homes, and about whom much anxiety is felt by their relatives and friends, are Thomas Donnelly, of 768 Thirteenth street, and John Hanna, of 2273 Evelyn street. Donnelly, as described by Captain Simpson, who has men on the case, is very dark complexioned, heavy set, and at the time of his disappearance, wore a dark suit, black overcoat and black Christy hat. He is 5 feet 6 inches in height, and age is 28.

John Hanna, aged 62, is 5 feet 9 inches in height, weighs about 150 pounds, has light complexion and grey hair. At the time of his disappearance he wore a dark striped overcoat, grey trousers and green sweater and vest.

The police are doing all they can to locate the two missing men, as it is feared that they have been the victims of foul play. As far as can be learned neither of the men were heavy drinkers, and their disappearance can in no way be accounted for. Any information leading to their apprehension will be gladly received at police headquarters.

SPENCE-LYTTLETON DEAD

London, Dec. 5.—The Hon. George Spencer-Lyttleton, who was private secretary to Mr. Gladstone in 1892-1894, died this morning. Mr. Lyttleton was born in 1847.

ZABERN GARRISON ORDERED TRANSFERRED BY EMPEROR

ALSO DIRECTS COURT MARTIAL TO BE HURRIED

His Majesty's Solution of Alsace Trouble Regarded as Two-edged Sword.

MERCHANTS WILL SUFFER GREAT FINANCIAL BLOW

Heads of Civil and Military Branches Consult With Ruler of Germany.

Donaueschingen, Germany, Dec. 5.—Emperor William this afternoon ordered the transfer of the entire garrison at Zabern, Alsace, owing to the trouble between the soldiers and the citizens there. He also directed that the court martial proceedings in connection with the recent rioting be accelerated.

His majesty's solution of the difficulty is regarded in many quarters as a two-edged sword and while it removes the danger of future conflicts, the people and merchants of Zabern will suffer a financial blow, by the removal of an important source of revenue.

Denied by Officials.

Berlin, Dec. 5.—The existence of a government crisis was denied today by officials in close touch with the imperial chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg. They declared he had no intention of resigning office in connection with the conflict between the military and civilians in Alsace.

The relinquishment of the post of governor-general of Alsace Lorraine by Count Chas. Von Wedel, however, is considered probable unless his authority is fully restored and protected against the aggressions of the military officials.

Consult With Emperor.

The imperial chancellor, the governor-general, and Lieut. Gen. Berthold Von De Imling, the military commander, arrived shortly before noon today at Donaueschingen where the emperor is staying.

Count Von Wedel and Lieut. General Deimling travelled together although their official relations are strained. The chancellor made the journey on a special train.

Conferences in which all three participated with the emperor were held during the afternoon, but the proceedings were kept strictly secret.

EMPEROR WILLIAM OF GERMANY, WHO HAS TAKEN DRASTIC ACTION IN THE ZABERN SCANDAL.

HEURTA'S FAMILY SECRETLY LEAVES THE CAPITAL CITY

LIVING QUIETLY, KNOWN TO FEW, AT VERA CRUZ

Growing Sense of Responsibility Noted on Part of Constitutionalists.

SEMBLANCE OF CIVIL AUTHORITY APPARENT

American Officials Viewing the Turn of Affairs With Much Satisfaction

Juarez, Dec. 5—Although within a few miles of the city with 7,000 troops, General Villa had not entered the city of Chihuahua at 1.30 today. Villa regarded the possession of the city as a formality since Governor Frederico Moye was instructed by General Salvador Mercado, Huerta's deserting military commander, to turn the city over to the rebels.

Mexico City, Dec. 5—The family of Provisional President Huerta is said to have gone secretly to Vera Cruz on November 30. They are living quietly in that city, where their presence is known to only a few intimate friends.

Conditions Are Better.

Washington, Dec. 5—Administration officials here are viewing with satisfaction evidence of the growing sense of responsibility on the part of the rebel leaders in the northern part of Mexico for the protection of life and property within the territory in their possession.

The state department's request for the release of Americans held for ransom or on suspicion, are now receiving attention at the hands of the constitutionalist generals, and it is apparent that these officials in turn are gradually exerting more power and imposing greater restraints over their subordinates.

Some semblance of civil authority also is beginning to appear in the northern states, and is meeting with recognition at the hands of military leaders.

Altogether, officials here see indications that a regularly organized civil government is about to be evolved from the chaotic conditions that have prevailed in that section of Mexico for the past nine months.

Approaching United States.

Marfa, Texas, Dec. 5—Five days on a desert without any more food or water than they could carry with them, the refugees from Chihuahua City, evacuated by the federals, were yesterday within a few miles of Ojinaga, on the border opposite Presidio, Texas.

United States customs and immigration inspectors left Marfa to meet the strangers in the expectation that they would cross the border, and also to meet any contingency that might arise should any of the Mexican federal army officers seek safety in this country.

At the head of the fleeing army officers is General Salvador Mercado, Huerta's military commander in northern Mexico, who evacuated Chihuahua after his troops threatened mutiny because they received no pay. Two thousand federal troops with members of some of the richest families in Mexico, are in the caravan.

WEAPONS STOLEN TO KILL MANAGER ARNOLD

Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 5—An interesting phase of the Plum Coulee murder and robbery, showing that the crime had been carefully planned, has come to light. A few days ago, a man, said to bear some semblance to the man Krafcenko, who is wanted by the police, ordered personally from the Hingston Smith Arms company here, guns and ammunition worth $100, for the Plum Coulee Hardware company. The shipment duly arrived at Plum Coulee, and in the absence of any hardware concern of that name, was delivered to Mrs. Stewart, who has the only hardware business in that town. The next night, Mrs. Stewart's store was burglarized, nothing being taken except the guns and ammunition, which were apparently first used in the attack on the bank.

The man hunt for the murderer of Arnold became keen when provincial detectives traced the fugitive to within 12 miles of the city. Provincial and city police now believe their quarry to be in hiding here, and the nooks and crannies of the city are being pierced to bring him to justice.

WEST SHOULD BE GIVEN RELIEF IN FREIGHT RATES

Counsel Supplies Figures, Commission Must Find the Way.

C.P.R. IS IN BETTER POSITION THAN OTHERS

Gets Land and Money While G.T.P. and C.N.R. Spend Own Money.

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 5.—Argument was continued before the railway board this morning in the western rates case by Jas. Bicknell, K.C., senior counsel for the dominion government. In his closing summary of the case Mr. Bicknell further emphasized many of the statements made by him yesterday.

Mr. Bicknell said that in 1911 the total operating expenses incurred by the C.P.R. for the movement of freight on the four western divisions was $22,768,183, if 50 percent of this sum, or $11,384,091 were added to this sum as an allowance for gross profits it would mean that the C.P.R. during the year made over $5,000,000 more on approximately the same traffic of the western than it did on its eastern lines. With the $4,000,000 received for passenger service added, it is demonstrated that the C.P.R. is now earning more than ten percent on the cost of the western lines.

Government counsel impressed upon the board that durability of making a ruling which would compel the railways to do their bookkeeping in such a way that the difficulties arising out of disputed figures would not occur in the future in connection with the consideration of rates. Mr. Bicknell submitted that he had supplied sufficient data in regard to the C.P.R. to enable the board to make a finding. Turning to the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern, the government counsel said that not many figures had been submitted by these companies and comparisons were difficult to make. This was due largely to the fact that the lines of these companies are not completed.

Chairman Drayton: "Do you consider that the C.P.R. holds a position of advantage?"

Mr. Bicknell: "Undoubtedly the C.P.R. has a great advantage over other lines which are not, in a sense, completed and which in many instances are but feeder lines for the older system."

Mr. Bicknell said he was willing to admit that the earnings of the G.T.P. and the C.N.R. are not in any sense excessive or out of proportion to the amount of capital invested. The capital charges of these roads are larger than those of the C.P.R. owing to several circumstances, one of them being that they have, for the most part, been built out of money which the shareholders have provided or which has been borrowed. On the other hand the C.P.R. had built largely by grants of money and land given by the people.

In arriving at a solution of the rate problem, said Mr. Bicknell, "I do not consider that it will be practicable for the board to consider the C.P.R. and the other lines doing business in the west together. I admit that this is a real difficulty. The board should, however, do as the United States courts in the Minnesota rates case did and say that the roads which are earning too much must come down in their rates."

Chairman Drayton: "Your proposal is that the different position of the C.N.R. and the G.T.P. find themselves should not be considered by the board in making the rates for the C.P.R."

Mr. Bicknell: "Yes that is my proposition."

Mr. Bicknell went on to declare that the data submitted made it perfectly clear that the west should be given the relief.

"You have got to find the way. All we can do is to supply the figures," he remarked.

"And no matter what must reduce the rates?" querried Mr. Drayton.

"Yes, that is what we think," remarked the government counsel.

MRS. PANKHURST ALL NIGHT LONG IN EXETER JAIL

Elaborate Preparations Made By Authorities to Make Her Prisoner Again.

"BROKEN YOUR PAROLE" THE POLICE TELL HER

Her Secretary Says She Was in Excellent Health and Spirits on Trip.

London, Dec. 5—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst is spending the night in Exeter jail, where she was taken in an automobile from Plymouth immediately after she had been arrested on board the liner Majestic, which arrived from New York yesterday. The police cleverly outwitted the suffragette "body guard" who were not aware of their leader's arrest until she was out of their reach.

As the liner neared Plymouth about noon, a strange tug, the Wolf, was seen to be moving out from Cawsand Bay toward her. The tender conveyed Inspector Riley, of Scotland Yard, four detectives, a wardress and Chief Constable Sowerby, of Plymouth.

The official tender of the White Star company with a party of journalists on board, attempted to approach the Majestic, but as the result of a police plan, was unable to get within two miles of her, two destroyers obscuring the drama on board the liner from view.

Asks For Warrant.

The police on boarding the Majestic, approached Mrs. Pankhurst, a solitary figure, standing on the promenade deck. She refused an invitation to meet the detectives in the purser's office, whereupon Inspector Riley and Chief Constable Sowerby introduced themselves and told her she was under arrest and must come with them.

"Your warrant, please," Mrs. Pankhurst said. "I do not know you, and refuse to come."

"I require no warrant. You are on license and you have broken your parole," said Inspector Riley, and without further resistance Mrs. Pankhurst embarked on the tender. Mrs. Rheta Dorr, an American suffragist, was allowed to accompany her.

The tender made for Devonport. She signalled to a motor car, which was waiting. The coast was deserted at that point.

No suffragettes were within five miles and the "armed bodyguard" at that moment was whiling their time away with "the Marseillaise" and other selections by a brass band at the dock gates at Millbay, Plymouth.

Mrs. Pankhurst, when she disembarked, was put into a car and taken away, nobody knowing where, while Mrs. Dorr remained in the tender and was taken to Plymouth.

Later, the news leaked out that Mrs. Pankhurst had been motored across Dartmoore and temporarily lodged in Exeter prison. She was forewarned of her arrest by a wireless message on the previous night. It was brief, merely "expect arrest," said Mrs. Dorr to a reporter, when on the tender. She continued, "I asked the police if I could accompany her, but they refused even to tell me her destination."

Miss Jean Wickham, Mrs. Pankhurst's private secretary, during the American tour, said that the voyage had been pleasant. She said Mrs. Pankhurst was in excellent health and good spirits all the time, and showed remarkable improvement in every way since she left France.

On Elaborate Scale.

The arrest was effected quietly and ingeniously, and was a triumph for the police. The arrangements were on an elaborate scale.

About 5,000 persons, including many suffragettes, crowded around the dock gates at Millbay, expecting that the armed "bodyguard" would spring a surprise on the authorities any moment, not knowing that the militants had been outwitted. A number of police stood guard. Similar precautions were taken at the other entrances to the docks. When the rumor spread that the suffragettes' game was up, there was no demonstration.

The harbor itself was patrolled by police boats, and the presence of two destroyers suggested naval aid to foil both the curious and the interested.

The climax was a little comedy of bluff between the police inspector and White Star officials, by which the newspaper men realized that they had been sidetracked.

The arrest incommoded the passengers of the Majestic, which was already overdue 15 hours, on account of bad weather. By the additional hours' delay many passengers lost the train connecting with the liner for London.

"Everything deranged for the sake of a police plot to capture a poor, misguided woman," remarked one passenger.

London, Dec. 5.—At a meeting of the Women's Social and Political union at Ravewater last night Mrs. Ducre-Fox said that the militants would immediately start for Exeter which she was certain would speedily result in Mrs. Pankhurst's release.

She added that as a protest against the arrest of Mrs. Pankhurst money had been cabled to the organization from the United States.

Cincinnati, Dec. 5.—With Rosalinda, a specially imported German doll, Miss Reinecke, of the Red Cross Society, is instructing the future mothers attending Woodward High School the secrets of baby hygiene. Among other things the girls are taught how to bathe, exercise, feed, dress and air the baby. So popular is the course that a waiting list has been formed. All of the girls are proving apt pupils.

MOROCCO SITUATION IS SERIOUS FOR THE SPANISH GOVERNMENT

Madrid, Dec. 5.—It is officially announced that General Weyler, former military governor of Cuba, will be appointed Spanish resident in Morocco, to succeed General Marina. The fact that General Weyler, who is considered the ablest soldier in Spain, is to be sent to Morocco, is considered by the public as an evidence that the situation there is more serious than the government will admit. Furthermore General Weyler does not belong to the conservative party now in power and it is believed only the absolute necessity for the presence there of a strong man and able soldier has compelled the government to appoint him.

INVOLVES A GRAVE MENACE TO UNIONS

Development in South Wales Strike is the Occasion of Giving Warning.

London, Dec. 5.—Substantial additions to the number of railway men on strike in South Wales were made yesterday, despite urgent admonitions by officials. Both the trade unions concerned estimated that last night 1,500 men joined the strikers, and their abstention from work has brought coal mines and other industries employing some 1,500 hands to a standstill.

The situation is a serious one. It not only brings wholesale loss and inconvenience to the general public, but involves a grave menace to the organizations of the men themselves. Th position is deplored by the railway review, the official organ of the national union of railwaymen, which says:

"If every member of the trade union is to become a free lance and do just what seems to him best without reference to the opinions and decision of his organization, and yet in extreme cases is to expect the support of such organization, then we shall have arrived at absolutely anarchy, and the organization will henceforth exist only in name."

ROY CARNEGIE GOES DOWN FOR A MONTH

Takes Vacation at Fort Saskatchewan For Purloining Other People's Goods.

A two-hours' session, beginning at 2.30 yesterday afternoon, was held in the police court when several cases which had been adjourned previously were disposed of.

The charge against Dan McGillies as keeper of a bawdy house was withdrawn.

Roy Carnegie, for theft, got one month at hard labor at Fort Saskatchewan.

The case of false pretences preferred by John Ivan, a laborer on the G.T.P., against Sam Williams, charging the defendant with false pretences in a real estate deal was dismissed for lack of convincing evidence. The magistrate, in disposing of the case, said that he was sorry to see the man down out of his money by sharp real estate practice, and advised the defendants who are alleged to be agents of the Western Land company, headquarters Saskatoon, to "give the man satisfaction or money back."

The case against James Cole, for obstructing traffic, was dismissed.

WILL CHANCELLOR HOLLWEG FAIL IN COURSE ADOPTED?

His Justification of Alsace Officer Condemned by the Reichstag,

IS APPOINTED BY KAISER AND MAY BE RETAINED

Emperor May Realize Situation —Has Summoned Hollweg and Others.

Berlin, Dec. 5.—Germany is undoubtedly on the eve of a great political crisis, as a result of the vote in the Reichstag censuring Dr. Von Bethmann Hollweg, imperial chancellor, for his astonishing attempt to justify the dragooning of Zabern, Alsace, by a young lieutenant. All Germany is wondering whether the chancellor will fall. He is appointed by the kaiser, and remains in office as long as he retains the kaiser's confidence, and the resolution of censure, therefore, is only the expression of the Reichstag's opinion and is only effective so far as it may effect the kaiser.

It is believed that in this case, however, the kaiser has realized the seriousness of the situation, for he has summoned the chancellor to Donaueschingen, where he is staying. Count Vedel, civil governor of Alsace and General Von Deimling, commander of the army corps stationed in Alsace, have also been summoned.

Germany is awaiting with anxious interest the result of the conference which takes place today. It was stated last night that if the kaiser blames Count Vedal, the chancellor will resign and that if the blame falls on General Von Deimling, the war minister will go. The situation, which has arisen simply because the foolish conduct of a young lieutenant remains unpunished is one of great gravity. Never since the historical interview with the kaiser published in the Daily Telegraph has Germany been swept with such a storm of wild indignation and no quiet can possibly be restored until Colonel Reuter and Lieutenant Foremer are punished, or at least transferred.

Several names are sugested in connection with the succession to the imperial chancellorship, including those of Marshall Von Dergoeths, Admiral Von Tirpits and even Prince Furstenberg, one of the kaiser's most intimate friends, and his host at Donaueschingen. Germany is anxiously awaiting the kaiser's decision and each party, military and civilian, is confident that the kaiser will decide in the best interests of way under the most difficult circumstances.

Even if the imperial chancellor saves his post for the present, his position will be singularly difficult, and will be entirely without prestige. A vote of censure has been passed only once before in the history of Germany on a chancellor, and then not by anything like such a great majority, and it is believed that the fact that the kaiser intervened personally after yesterday's debate is proof that he thinks his chancellor's treatment of the case is extremely weak. For the first time in Germany history, kaiser and reichstag seem to hold the same view. If this belief is confirmed by tomorrow's interview at Donaueschigen, the days of Von Bothsann Hollweg as chancellor are numbered.

CONVICTS HOSED UNTIL SUFFERING TERRIFIC AGONY

Water Used as Punishment Tears Flesh Off Their Shoulders and Arms.

HEARTS CHILLED AND NEAR DEATH'S DOOR

Evidence Given Before Penitentiary Commission Hearing in Kingston Case.

Kingston, Ont., Dec. 5—That he was subjected to an application of the hose in January and that he has not yet fully recovered from the effects, was the evidence of a convict at the penitentiary commission hearing here yesterday. He says he was placed in a specially constructed cell and a stream of ice water was played on him for a minor offence.

In his evidence, the convict swore that on New Year's night a number of convicts were singing in their cells and he was accused of being guilty. The next day he was taken to the hosing cell, where a stream of water, under 62 pounds pressure, was played on him until he fell unconscious. The shirt was torn from his back and he has felt the effects ever since. He has been suffering from pains in his back and he has been unable to sleep at night. He told how he was put to work.

Although at the last meeting of the commission it was said that there had been only one case of hosing in the last 10 years, the sitting today brought out the fact that there have been at least five cases of hosing this year. Four convicts were heard who testified to being hosed, and everyone of them described the treatment as horrible.

Cried Out in Agony.

The men are placed in a cell, the corners of which have been walled up, so that the victim gets the full benefit of the stream.

Only the undershirt is left on the upper portion of his body, and he is subjected to a continuous playing of the hose until he cries out in agony. He is then taken out, supplied with dry suit and sent to his cell. One convict said that for days after the application he was totally paralyzed in the lower extremities.

"I thought I was dying and made my peace with my God in preparation for the end," he said.

This man is said to have received a college education in England. He is 30 years old and is serving a third term. "He is one of the quartette of desperadoes transferred from Manitoba penitentiary, and who attempted to escape twice.

Another convict swore that the force of the water not only knocked him senseless, but tore the flesh off his arms, shoulders and arms. He turned his back and showed the scars which he claimed were inflicted. Some of the officials claimed that these were old scars, but after the men's records had been looked up, and it was found that when the convict was admitted, he had no such scars. He said that for a day after the application, he was lying at death's door, his heart having been chilled. He also was under the doctor's care as a result.

Convicts Also Tied Up.

From what could be learned, these hosings were ordered by Inspector Stewart, who was acting warden in the interval between the resignation of Warden Platt, and the appointment of Warden Irvine, from Stony Mountain penitentiary.

Although the hosing was permitted, according to regulations in his testimony, some time ago ex-Warden Platt stated that it was so brutal that after seeing one application, he would never ordered that form of punishment again. It is altogether likely that Inspector Stewart will be subpoenaed to give evidence.

A other form of punishment which has been in vogue is the tying up of convicts. A refractory inmate is strapped to the bars of his cell, with his hands tied in front of him. This punishment was described by several convicts, but they considered it mild compared to the hosing.

POULTRY SHOW HAS BEEN BEST EVER HELD IN CITY

President Hunter of the Association Says That Everybody Was Well Pleased, and That Much Encouragement Had Been Received From All Quarters to Go Ahead for the Next Year.

At the poultry show yesterday afternoon the last ribbon was awarded and the judging for this year brought to a close. With the last prize awarded the serious business of the show may be said to have come to an end. In the evening something that could interest everybody was offered to the public, when Mr. Lewis, of Lacombe, gave an exhibition of expert killing and dressing. The knowledge that this demonstration was billed for last night brought out what was by far the largest crowd of the week. This afternoon at 3 o'clock what remains of the birds, which came in for Mr. Lewis's expert attention last night, will be sold at public auction. That there will be spirited bidding is beyond question.

In looking back over the week just passed, President Hunter stated to the newspaper men that in his opinion the show about to close had been easily the best in the history of the association. "Everybody is well pleased," he said, "and the committee has received encouragement from all quarters to go ahead during the coming year."

INCORPORATED 1670 HERBERT E. BURBIDGE, STORES COMMISSIONER

SEPARATE SCHOOL CANDIDATES ON PUBLIC ROSTRUM

Address Electors on Questions of Educational Moment.

THERE ARE 1138 PUPILS AND 35 TEACHERS

Assessment is a Little Over $20,000,000—Taxes Last Year, $26,000.

A well-attended meeting of separate school supporters was held last night in the auditorium of the separate school. All of the candidates in the field were present and addressed the meeting. This is the first time in the history of the separate school that the candidates have come before the people seeking election. There are six candidates in the field, and from this number four will be chosen next Monday, one from the south side and three from the north side.

The candidates are J. A. Connelly and E. P. O'Donnell on the south side, and J. H. Picard, W. Hefferman, J. O'Neill and D. J. Gilmurray for the north side. C. Gallagher was in the chair, and first called on Emile Tessier, the secretary-treasurer, for a report of the work of the separate school board. This was presented in very concise form, and showed that the institution is in good shape and being well administered. He stated that the assessment this year has increased from twelve millions last year to a little over twenty million dollars this year. Last year the taxes were $26,000, while they have been advanced this year to $59,000. The estimated valuation of the land, buildings and furniture owned by the separate school board was given by the secretary as $453,000. The debenture indebtedness is about $200,000. Mr. Tessier stated that on the present assessment the board had the power to borrow to the extent of three million dollars, and therefore he considered that they were in a very healthy financial condition.

For the information of those present at the meeting a resume of the statistics in connection with the schools was given by the secretary as follows: Third street, the oldest school, three rooms in the high school, with 53 pupils and three teachers, and in the regular school seven rooms, 280 pupils, and 11 teachers. Kinistino, 12 rooms, 400 pupils and 11 teachers. South side, two schools, eight rooms, 200 pupils and seven teachers. Elm Park, four rooms, 75 pupils and three teachers. North Edmonton, three rooms, 90 pupils and three teachers. Gallagher Flats, two rooms, 46 pupils and one teachers. The totals are 39 rooms, 1,138 pupils and 35 teachers.

The year began with a debit balance of $12,000, caused by purchasing lands, furnishing new rooms, and building additions to schools. Nine different debenture payments, amounting to $13,237, had been made during the year. $35,000 had been expended in salaries, and $18,000 in purchasing sites and building schools, and the total disbursements would amount to about $119,000. He estimated the total receipts to be $121,000, so that they would start the year with a clean debit.

For Sites and Buildings This Year.

The amount expended on sites and erection of buildings this year included the following: Elm Park, four lots, costing $2,500, and school of four rooms costing $5,300. In North Edmonton there was a deficit of $2,700 on the old district before it was taken over, and a two-room school had been erected at a cost of $1,600. On the south side a school had been erected in block 12, at a cost of $5,500. Two lots were purchased on Gallagher Flats for $1,600, and $1,800 was expended in erecting a schol. To the Kinistina avenue school an addition was made at a cost of $18,000.

In the west end an option had been secured on a site of two acres near the Jesuit college, and the board will recommend its purchase at a cost of $16,000. A primary school was also contemplated in Hemphriggs, and a high school and hall on Tenth street.

Following the valuable information given by the secretary, the candidates were called on to address the meeting. The first speaker was J. A. Connelly, a south side candidate. In the course of his remarks he stated that the board did not receive any taxes from the Hudson Bay Co. or the C.P.R. None of them with the single exception of the Imperial paid taxes to the board, while in Calgary the speaker reminded his hearers that the board received a great deal of its financial support from the larger corporations. A startling statement made by the speaker was that hundreds of separate school supporters were on the public school lists, this he claimed was robbing Catholics of their rights and as the officials were non-Catholic they did not take much interest in the matter.

The next speaker was D. J. Gilmurray who promised to use his best endeavors for the good of the institution. He blamed the ratepayers for being careless and therefore losing money which should rightly belong to the separate school board. One of his strong points and which was advocated on the platform last night was a manual training system for the older boys with a competent professor in charge of the work.

A eulogy of the past board was given by J. W. Heffernen, the next speaker. He stated that all credit was due for the masterly way in which the business of the board has been handled in the past. Having been asked by many of his friends to join the board, he promised that if elected he would use his best endeavors to see that the work is kept in progress along all lines.

E. P. O'Donnell, who has been a member of the board for the past two years on the south side and is again seeking re-election, dealt at some length with the tax question. He suggested that the act should be remedied in regard to the taxes. As it now stands the taxes from large corporations are first paid to the protestant school board and in turn they pay over the portion belonging to the separate cloool board. He promised to work as faithfully in the future as he has in the past for the board if elected on Monday next for another term.

J. O'Neill, an east end candidate appealed for the support of the voters next Monday and promised to give of his time and attention unsparingly for the best interests of the board during the coming year.

The retiring chairman of the board, J. H. Picard, dealt in brief with the progress of the institution during the past year. He referred to some of the matters which required the most careful attention of the board during the coming year and assured those present last night that he would endeavor to see that the year 1914 is the best in the history of the separate schools of the city.

AWFUL TRAGEDIES OF OCEAN SHIP DISASTERS

"Targets of Fate," Built on the Misfortunes of Titanic and Volturno Calamities.

The awful tragedies of the Titanic ship disaster and the more recent calamitous journeys of the Volturno shocked the civilized world with horror. We all read with a heartfelt deep sympathy of the heartrending scenes of the manful, heroic acts of many of the passengers, of the stoical actions of the brave men who gave up their places in the lifeboats so that their places could be taken by the children and the women. And then to see these awful scenes played before you will be the unusual treat that will be afforded the patrons of the Bijou theatre for Friday and Saturday's program, "Targets of Fate." Though in two parts, is a production built on the misfortunes of these mid-ocean disasters, and a subject so timely and of universal interest acted with exceptional strength amongst realistic settings, offer a program at this favorite photo play theatre that is seldom betterd.

Because of the absorbing interest and world-wide sympathy aroused by these recent ocean disasters and the splendid presentation in this film the Bijou looks for one of its most successful runs by playing "Targets of Fate."

The comedy to season the evening's entertainment will be a side splitting release of the famous Keystone company called "The Speeders." The Keystone Komedies need no emphasis for those who have already seen but one of their funny films can then properly understand what a rollicking "The Speeders" must be, for it is announced as of the very funniest presentations of this joy producing company.

THE BLUNDERING ATROCITY OF TWO THOUSAND YEARS.

In a story written by Al. Jennings, ex-train robber, and published recently in the Saturday Evening Post, there were revelations of prison methods at Levenworth and in the Ohio State Penitentiary which must have given everyone who read the story a shiver of horror that such barbarities could be practised in any institution in an allegedly civilized country in this, the Twentieth Century.

But now come revelations from Kingston which bring the horror much closer to home, telling plainly of cruelties practised on prisoners in the Canadian institution, cruelties so barbaric as to be almost unbelievable. The Kingston revelations arose out of the plain statement of released convicts from that institution who made charges of cruelties, which statements the prison officials promptly denied. In one official's first evidence, for instance, the statement was made that only one hosing in ten years had taken place. It now develops that this hideous practise was not limited to one in ten years, but that there were many. Hosing means throwing a prisoner into a locked cell and turning a high-pressure stream of water on him until he collapses. Al. Jennings tells it well in his Ohio state penitentiary story. Ex-convicts at Kingston are now telling of how men's flesh was torn from their bones by the force of the stream, how their limbs were paralyzed and their hearts affected by the icy water.

Statistics in United States show that the cost of policing, of the courts and the caring for criminals in that country aggregates as much as the total value of all the wheat, all the cotton and all the coal raised every year. The figures show that three-fourths of the inmates of penal institutions are there because of crimes against property, such as robbery, forgery, malfeasance, etc. Al. Jennings was one of these. At present he is a possibility for the governorship of Oklahoma. There are thousands more who have the capacity for useful citizenship, but whom a blind "justice" has locked away in living tombs where every semblance of manhood is crushed out and from which not one in a million can emerge with anything but bitterness against a society which has maltreated him in such a manner.

The theory of the penal institutions is that by locking away men who have failed in some particular to follow the rules of society they are impressed with the error of their ways and improved into better citizens. The fact is that these institutions are hell-holes in which, obscured by the prison walls, every extreme of hatred, revenge and malignant cruelty is visited upon the victims, searing their hearts and making impossible the recovery of a proper mental attitude toward society which visits such barbarities upon them. The Kingston revelations show that Canada is quite as guilty as are other countries which flatter themselves that they are Christian and civilized. The statistics show that as a business proposition, the penal system is a tremendous burden upon society, and the Al. Jennings story shows that it is only where the victim is hereditarily endowed with an almost miraculous inherent manhood that the state could fail to wreck all possibility of good citizenship in the man whom it submits to such barbarism as the penitentiary.

To a realization that these are facts society is gradually but surely awakening. Some few men on this North American continent have managed to get a clutch of the right idea. Led on by such men as Hanna in Ontario, Ben Lindsay in Denver, Brand Whitlock and the late Golden Rule Jones of Toledo, and by our own Mr. Chadwick of Edmonton, public opinion is gradually coming round to the opinion that the world, in its penal system, has been perpetrating a blundering atrocity for two thousand years. Some day, probably not far distant, the world will come to realize that crime is largely mis-directed energy, and that both the prisoner and the state could be saved money and heart-wrench by a system which would substitute a system of intelligent education where there is now nothing better than a blind and savage revenge.

MR. BORDEN'S CHICKENS ALREADY HOME TO ROOST.

When the dominion parliament assembles on January 15 Mr. Borden will find his chickens already home to roost.

In the reciprocity campaign the great cry of the protectionists was that there must be no truck nor trade with the Yankees. But Woodrow Wilson has taken the duty off beef and puts it directly up to Borden to take the duty off wheat and flour. Free beef heightens the cost of living. The Canadian dinner table is affected. The only possible counterbalance is for Canada to remove some of her duties and permit free entry of the things which United States can grow more cheaply than Canada, just as United States has done in the case of Canadian beef. The question is hurled at Mr. Borden in such a manner that he cannot dodge. The projection of the naval question into the proceedings of the last session was a strategy to obscure and side-track the tariff issue. The emergency has refused to emerge and the Borden naval policy has become a howling farce. It can no longer hog the spotlight.

Mr. Borden and his government have been stripped of every disguise. They must now go into the house prepared to admit the liberal demand for a reduction of the tariff in the public interest, or they must stand revealed as the agents of the protectionists, wielding for private ends the power placed in their hands by a too confiding electorate.

LISTEN MOTHER DO BE CAREFUL

If child is cross, constipated, sick, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Don't Scold your Restless, Peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

CORRESPONDENCE

MAYOR SHORT EXPLAINS.

To the Editor of the Edmonton Capital:

A hand bill recently issued in the interests of Mr. W. J. McNamara contained the following:

"Without the various high-salaried experts, 'investigating' consulting engineers, 'efficiency doctors,' or auditors in 1912, it required $11 out of every $100 collected in taxes to pay 'central administration' expenses, or run the city hall. With all these luxuries for 1913, what will be the cost this year would be interesting."

It will be observed there is a veiled insinuation that the city hall expenses during the current year have not been given close supervision, and the suggestion is thrown out that the cost of 'central administration' for 1913 would be greatly in excess of that for 1912. It is to be regretted that before issuing such a misleading statement, Mr. McNamara and his friends did not acquaint themselves of the facts. Had they done so, they would have learned that under the Short regime reduction has been effected. The following is a comparative statement of 'central administration' expenses for the twelve months ending 31st October, 1912 and 1913, and showing the percentages of these with the total taxes collected up to and including 27th November of each year:

Net central administration expenses for the 12 months ending 31st October, 1912, $179,292.07; for the same period, 1913, $166,388.57.

Total taxes collected to 27th November, 1912, $1,383,983.72; 1913, $2,578,124.13.

Percentage of central administration expenses to taxes collected, 1912, 13.30; 1913, 6.18.

These figures show an actual decrease of $12,903.50 in central administration expenses, and as compared with an expenditure of $13.30 for every $100 collected in taxes for 1912, only $6.18 per $100 collected in taxes has been expended during the current year.

It will be of interest to know that included in the central administration expenses for 1913 are the following items, regarding which insinuating reference is made in the hand bill above referred to:

Inspector of departments $2,340.50
Cost engineer 3,005.55
Special audit 2,000.00

W.M. SHORT.

Edmonton, Dec. 4, 1913.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

The Ven. Dr. Elwyn Sandys Wetmore Pentreath, whose long and useful career as a religious leader and teacher ended with his death in California a few months ago, was born in Clifton, New Brunswick, 67 years ago today. He was the oldest son of Capt. Edwin Pentreath and Elizabeth B. Wetmore. He received the degree of Bachelor of Divinity from the New York General Theological Seminary, and that of Doctor of Divinity from St. John's College, Winnipeg after graduating from the New York Institution in 1872 he was ordained a deacon, and was the incumbent of Grace church at Rutherford Park, N. J., until 1874. He then ordained a priest and returned to his native Province as rector at Moncton, and soon afterward married Clara Woolford, daughter of Thomas S. Sayre, a barrister at Dorchester, N. B. He remained at Moncton until 1882, when he became the rector of Christ Church in Winnipeg. He resided in the western metropolis for 13 years, and became a leader in the work of the church in Manitoba and the west. In 1897 he became Archdeacon of Columbia, Diocese of New Westminster, and continued in that position until his death.

On this date in 1775 Gen. Richard Montgomery, having joined his army with that of Benedict Arnold before the walls of Quebec, demanded the surrender of the city, the last spot in the Province where waved the British flag. Gen. Sir Guy Carleton, despite the second hopelessness of his position, refused to carry on any negotiations with men he considered rebels. With only 1,800 half-starved under his command, Carleton calmly awaited the assault, and when it came the wisdom of his course was fully justified.

FIRST THINGS

The first order of Christian anchorites established in Palestine was founded by St. Sabas, whose festival is celebrated today, the anniversary of his death in the year 532.— This renowned patriarch of the monks of Palestine came of a wealthy family, but a dispute among relatives about the settlement of an estate so disgusted him that he forsook the world and entered a monastery. At the age of 18 he went to Jerusalem, but later sought seclusion in the desert of Judea. He made his home in a cave on the top of a mountain. The fame of his holiness spread abroad, and many came to him, desiring to serve God under his direction. He finally founded a new monastery of men who desired "to devote themselves to the praise and service of God without interruption," and gained hundreds of adherents. Some of the oldest Christian monasteries in the world, scattered in remote places over the deserts of Asia and Africa, were founded by monks who had received inspiration from St. Sabas. In the latter part of his long life St. Sabas was the superior-general of all the anchorites of Palestine.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Dean Sumner of Chicago, 39
Today, Denounces Idle Rich

One of the most distinguished American Anglican clergymen is the Very Rev. Walter Taylor Sumner, dean of the Episcopal cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul in Chicago. Although still a young man—he will pass his 39 birthday today—Dean Sumner has achieved an international reputation as a fearless, eloquent and progressive religious leader. He has not hesitated to excoriate the rich and fashionable members of his flock, when they seemed in need of it. His work has taken him among the richest of the rich and the poorest of the poor, and he has frankly admitted that, in the matter of morals, he has not found a great deal to choose between them.

Dean Sumner was born on Dec. 5, 1874, at Manchester, N. H., and graduated from Dartmouth College and Western Theological Seminary. He was ordained a deacon of the Protestant Episcopal church a decade ago, and a priest a year later.

For seven years he has been the dean of the great cathedral, but has also served as superintendent of Episcopal city Missions, director of the Charles Sumner Social Settlement, chairman of a lodging house committee and a committee on the unemployed, and in various other capacities that have brought him into personal contact with the "down-and-outers" and the poverty-stricken and the shiftless elements in society.

Dean Sumner is one of the foremost advocates of a single standard of morals for men and women, and is the author of a pledge for young men which reads as follows:

"Some day I expect to marry a girl who is keeping herself pure for me. I promise to keep myself pure that I may not bring to the marriage altar taint or corruption that shall make me unworthy of her."

"We will never approach even the fringe of solving the problem of immorality," Dean Sumner has said, "until we teach our boys what its consequences are, and what its toll is in babies that are born blind and born crippled and insane and in innocent wives who are made victims for life without ever knowing whence the infliction came that their husbands brought upon them."

In denouncing Chicago's idle rich, Dean Sumner has charged the women of fashionable society with "dressing in an immoral way." He adds: "And in their drawing rooms the same licentious, immoral, fantastically named dances that are to be seen in the frankly immoral districts' dance halls which have been borrowed from an immoral source, and which are stopped by the police in the dance halls of the poor."

"The Church should play its part in education," decares Dean Sumner, "It should require health certificates before marriage. It should insist that its members who gain profit in any form from the social evil, or by the chaining of small children to the wheels of industry, should be known. Publicity will effect a cure in most cases. From the housetops the church should proclaim its stand, even if it loses half its members; but it will not lose anything for others will take the place of the evildoers."

Sir Sidney Lee, historian and biographer and editor of the Dictionary of National Biography, was born in London 54 years ago today. His article on the late King Edward, published in the supplementary, created a sensation in England, as the author alleged that the monarch was not in any sense a statesman, but rather a good-natured, agreeable and rather self-indulgent man of the world.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

World City Plan Recalls
Other Utopian Schemes

It is expected that representatives of all nations will assemble in Paris today to hear the first public plea for the building of a great international city devoted to all forms of human progress and reform. If the elaborate scheme for such a world center of progressive humanity should be realized on the scale dreamed of by its promoters, this day may become one of the most important dates in history, but it is recorded that hundreds of somewhat similar projects have ended in failure, since the days of Plato, and probably long before, men have dreamed of ideal communities based on the spirit if universal brotherhood, but racial and religious antagonisms have always prevented the realization of the vision.

The leader in the latest "international city" movement is said to be Hendrik Christian Anderson, and American sculptor who resides at Rome. Some four-score peace and philanthropic societies of international scope are said to have indorsed the plan. The cost of building the city is estimated at $100,000,000. Among the possible sites suggested are a spot on the coast of Holland, near The Hague; the New Jersey coast, the Riviera, near Cannes; a spot on the St. Lawrence; the shore of Lake Neufchatel, near Bern; Tervueren, near Brussels; the Marmore coast, near Constantinople; the Mediterranean coast, near Rome, and St. Germain-en-Laye, near Paris.

The imaginary "Utopia" of Sir Thomas More, described in his famous political romance "The Ideal Republic, which is the New Island of Utopia," and for nearly four centuries inspired men to seek the realization of the splendid fancy. Communists, socialists, single taxers, vegetarians, spiritualists, theosophists, religionists of many strange sects and the opponents of religion have sought to build cities and communities to serve as thought centres for the propagation of their isms.

New Harmony, Ind., now a commonplace country town of less than 1,600 people, is a monument to one of the most interesting of American Communistic experiments. In 1805 a party of Harmonists, members of a sect founded by Wurtemberg, emigrated to America and settled first in Butler county, Pa. About a century ago they removed to Indiana, purchased 30,000 acres of land, and gave the name of Harmony to a settlement which was to be the center of the sect's activities. In 1824 the Harmonists, who believed in a community of goods and celibacy, sold their Indiana interests to Robert Owen, and returned to Pennsylvania, where they started a new "ideal city" called Economy. Owen, the father of English socialism, was a native of Wales. It was just a century ago that he published the first of his remarkable essays on "A New View of Society." His purpose in coming to America was to establish a community where he could put into effect his scheme for the social, economic and religious reorganization and regeneration of the world. The town was renamed "New Harmony," and was operated collectively by the "New Harmony Community of Equality." Private property, irrational religion and the marriage institution were denounced by Owen as the trinity of man's oppressors. The scheme failed, and Owen, who had lost most of his fortune in the venture, returned to England. The word "socialism" first became current in the discussions of the Association of All Classes of All Nations, formed by Owen in 1835. Robert Owen was accompanied to America by his two sons, Robert Dale Owen, later famous as a publicist and congressman in the United States, and as the founder of the Churlist movement in England, and David Dale Owen, distinguished as an American geologist.

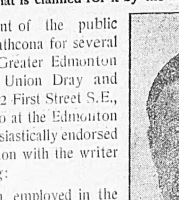

Drinking Men's Wives

You can save your drinking husbands and sons by giving them the Neal Treatment. Your husbands may be fighting the rabbit with all their power, but when the irresistible craving for alcoholic stimulants comes on they cannot resist and the result is another "big drunk." No doubt they are discouraged by repeated failures to stop of their own accord. With a certain failure and ruin staring them in the face you should act for them at once and send them to the Neal Institute. The Neal Treatment is a safe, sure vegetable remedy that removes the craving for drink in three days without the use of hypodermic injections. Call and get satisfactory proofs and references, or write or phone for booklet of information.

HUMAN BAKE OVEN SCORES ANOTHER BIG VICTORY

Mr. Robert E. Palmer, of the Union Dray and Transfer Company, formerly superintendent of the Public Works Department of the City of Strathcona, where he has been a resident 18 years, rapidly recovering from lumbago at the Edmonton Sanatorium. He wants his friends, acquaintances and the public to know that the Human Bake Oven treatment is all that is claimed for it by the management.

ROBERT E. PALMER
42 First Street S.E., Edmonton

Robert E. Palmer, superintendent of the public works department of the city of Strathcona for several years until its amalgamation with Greater Edmonton in January, 1912, now with the Union Dray and Transfer Company, with offices at 42 First Street S.E., who is taking treatments for lumbago at the Edmonton Sanatorium, 634 Fourth Street, enthusiastically endorsed the Human Bake Oven in conversation with the writer the afternoon of December 3, saying:

"Truly, the Human Bake Oven, employed in the Edmonton Sanatorium, is one of the wonders of the age. Up to today I have taken 10 treatments for lumbago, from which I have been suffering for eight years, and I am glad to say that I am making extraordinary progress toward permanent recovery.

"I can truthfully say, and I want my friends, neighbors and the public generally to know it, that the Human Bake Oven treatment is all and more than is claimed for it by the management. I haven't felt better in 10 years, and I want to say too that I had my full money's worth at the third treatment. It is marvelous what has been accomplished in my case."

Mr. Palmer had just come out of the oven, where he took more than 350 degrees Fahrenheit of dry heat, and was in the hands of the masseur when the writer called at the sanatorium. The South Side pioneer had a smile on his face and after the treatment he walked up and down stairs with ease. To see him on the street one would not think that he had a single ill; "but," he said, "it was not always so," adding:

"I was in bad shape when I went to the sanatorium for the first treatment but my condition improved from the start. I am not completely restored but I am confident that I will be entirely cured. I have no hesitancy in recommending the treatment to my friends and the public at large, as I know what it will do. It has helped me wonderfully and I want other sufferers to know the Human Bake Oven treatment will give them relief and a permanent cure."

The Human Bake Oven treatment, employed at the Edmonton Sanatorium, 634 Fourth street, just a few steps north of Jasper Avenue, is recommended by some of the foremost medical practitioners on the North American continent and throughout Europe. It has given permanent relief to thousands of sufferers from rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica and other ailments resulting from bad blood and poor circulation. A number of Edmonton people are now under treatment and they are making rapid progress toward recovery. It does not cost a penny to investigate and there is no charge for consultation. There are trained nurses in attendance for women.

WASTEFULNESS CONTRIBUTING CAUSE FOR PRESENT HIGH COST OF LIVING

Philadelphia, Dec. 5.—Wastefulness on the farms and in the cities failure to fertilize and cultivate millions of idle acres of land in the United States, inadequate means of getting products of the soil from the producers to the consumers and extravagant desires of housewives, were set forth today by speakers at the agricultural conference here as contributing causes of the high prices of food products.

The conference which will continue three days, was called to discuss the relation of the city and country regarding the high cost of living.

Both the farmer and the retailer were blamed for the prevailing high of handling.

prices of eggs by C. L. Opperman, formerly of the United States department of agriculture. He declared that the farmer, with full knowledge sold his eggs to the country merchants and commission houses, and that the profits were not made by the cold storage houses or the middlemen, but by the retailers.

E. W. Benjamin, of Cornell University, gave a description of the co-operative method adopted by the agricultural department at Cornell, by which the college marketed the eggs of small producers, charging an advance sufficiently only to pay rent and the cost

WOMANLY HEART OF QUEEN MARY SEEN BY MINERS

Visit Kindly and Gracious and She Proves Extremely Appreciative.

SPEAKS TO THE SICK; CHEERING THEM MUCH

Secretary of Association Recalls Incident of Most Striking Character.

London, Dec. 5.—John Wilson, M.P., secretary of the Durham Miners' association, has issued a circular to the miners regarding the recent visit of Queen Mary to the homes of miners at Ushawa, Moor and Shincliffe, while the king and queen were the guests of the Earl of Durham at Lambton Castle.

"From the introduction until the parting at Shincliffe," says Wilson, who escorted the queen, "there was not a single incident or tone of her voice that didn't indicate her kindly, gracious, womanly heart. Her admiration of the kitchens and bed-rooms was expressed in choice, pleasing terms. Her close and pleasing attention to their desire to show her even the smallest special article of furniture or souvenir won their affection, and has given her a place in their hearts which never will be obliterated as long as their memory lasts.

Two Incidents Recalled.

"At just about the finish of the visit there were two incidents which indicated her majesty's kindness of heart in the most striking manner.

"We were passing a house, the door of which stood open. In there, right in view, lay a woman, the door having been left open in order that she might see the queen as she passed.

"I was not sure what to do, but said 'there's a woman ill in bed there,' and was for passing on, but was stopped by hearing the tender words 'I must go in here,' and entering, the queen went to the bedside and spoke to the woman as to her health and the length of her illness, and left behind her an influence which would cheer the heart of the patient.

"At the end of the street, just before we got to her motor car, the most pleasing incident took place. A lady sat in a bath chair placed on a green, some three or four yards from the path. As we approached, I saw the hand of the invalid come out from under cover, and reach out toward the queen. I said: 'Your majesty, here is an invalid lady. She appears desirous of speaking to you.'

"'Where is she?' was the inquiry.

"I pointed to the corner, and with a quick step, the queen went over the grass and shook her head, speaking to her in the kindest manner."

OUR EARLIEST MEMORIES.

How far back in one's life can one remember? Herbert Spencer used to recall faint pictures of playing in the garden with a sister, a year his senior, who died at two years old. His most vivid recollection, however, "worth mentioning because of its psychological interest, is that of certain results caused in me by being left alone for the first time." The nurse went out and locked him up alone in the house. It was the evening of the week when the bells of All Saints' Derby were rung, and they were going all the time the child suffered in loneliness. "All through the early part of my life, and even in adult years, I never heard these bells without a feeling of sadness coming over me."

SAYS THAT FLOWERS FEEL PAIN.

French Scientist Bases Belief on Experiments.

Paris, Dec. 6.—Can flowers feel pain? This is a question to which French physiologists are giving much attention at the present time.

M. L. Chassaigne believes that they can and do. His opinion is based on interesting experiments. Taking a mimosa plant, he exposed it to the action of heat. The leaves writhed as if in pain. A simple mechanical effect, say the sceptics; a proof of sensibility, says M. Chassaigne, since it does not take place if the mimosa be anesthetized. If the vase containing the mimosa is placed in a glass globe with a piece of cotton impregnated with chloroform or any other volatile anesthetic for half an hour, the foliage becomes wilted and the plant has all the appearances of being in a deep sleep. If it be now subjected to the action of heat it remains unaffected. The plant no longer suffers.

M. Chassaigne has repeated the same experiment with many different kinds of plants, but always with the same result.

"It is maintained," he says, "that plants do not suffer pain because they have no nerves. But modern physiologists are beginning to ask what exactly are nerves. Many of them hold that nerves are but the extension of protoplasm, modified and adapted to fulfill the required function. Hence the protoplasm of plants can perfectly well act as a rudimentary nervous system, and I am continuing my experiments with the object of establishing this beyond doubt."

KEY TO HAPPINESS DISCOVERED BY OCULIST.

Dr. Archer Leslie Hood, an eminent oculist, who has been making a long study of the human eye as an index to character, has just discovered what he believes to be the key to happiness, good behaviour and success.

If you have been bad instead of good, unhappy instead of happy, and if your life has been punctuated with miserable failure, perhaps it wasn't all your own fault. You may suffer from some "bad head, or rather bad condition of your brain.

"It is now possible," declares Dr. Hood, "to make a man a very useful member of society, no matter how erratic, unbalanced and disagreeable he has been, simply by seeing that his brain and eye muscles receive proper nourishment. When anything is wrong it means that the man's brain, or some particular part of it, is being poorly nourished.

"For instance, that part in which the faculty and benevolence is situated may not be getting enough blood. Then such a man will not be benevolent. He will be animal-like in his propensities. He will not know how to keep order, either as to his person and clothes or in any work that he does.

"He may not be properly combative when others impose upon him, and will, therefore, fall an easy prey to unscrupulous persons. He will be a dangerous member of society. But he can no more avoid being like this than he can help having indigestion.

"An examination of the eyes of such a person shows that his brain doesn't get enough blood. The blood can be sent there till the part is normal. Then the man becomes benevolent and kindly.

"His sense of order will make him systematic and cleanly, well dressed and careful of appearance. A proper combativeness will make him energetic and determined, so that difficulties do not baffle him nor any one dare impose upon him.

"Every one knows how a steady eye always is the mark of a well-poised man, his eye muscles are strong. An examination of his eye would show that all parts were getting the right amount of nourishment. Criminals, on the other hand, real criminals and not those overcome by circumstances, have weak, shifting eyes. These are examples that every one is familiar with.

"The significance of all this to society is too far-reaching to be even suggested. It will probably form the basis for treatment in the future, being applied also to people who are mentally troubled in less degree."

"A woman who has no maternal instinct always is found to have a poor supply of blood to the back lobes of the brain. She cannot help not caring for children. But send the right amount of blood to her cerebrum and she will become loving and maternal at once.

BONES FOUND OF MAN 15,000 YEARS AGO

A skeleton found of a man of 15,000 years ago has been found, second link in the development of the human race was discovered at Halling, near Hochostem, England, and throws a great amount of light on life in those periods.

In addition, several flints and earthen vessels were uncovered, showing a primitive but none the less certain advancement in civilization over the conditions that surrounded the Tilbury man found in 1883.

W. H. Cook, a member of the Medway Scientific Research society, has reported the details of the discovery and submitted the bones to the inspection of the Royal Anthropological Institute.

The skeleton is that of a man apparently 5 feet 4 inches tall. It has a brain capacity of about 1500 cubic centimeters—a trifle above the modern average. The forehead is well formed, there is no trace of the great overhanging brow ridges which characterize the Neanderthal race.

As was the case in the Tilbury skull, the teeth of the Halling man are much worn, and most of the molar teeth have been lost prematurely through disease, probably as the result of overwear.

The skeleton was revealed during some excavations made near the Medway. It lay in a distinct stratum of brick earth, and there were four overlying strata, the lines of which were unbroken and undisturbed. It was evident, therefore, that these had been formed since the human remains had been deposited.

The bones were forwarded to the Royal College of Surgeons, where they were examined by Professor Keith. He found that there is a close resemblance between this man and what is known as the Tilbury man, who, found in 1883 at a depth of 34 feet, is usually regarded as the solitary representative of the Englishmen of the Transitional period—that is to say, the time between the Palaeolithic and the Neolithic period, when our present climate conditions became established—perhaps 15,000 years ago.

A subsequent discovery threw light on the probable period at which the burial—if it were a burial—had been made.

The junction between the stratum in which the skeleton lay and the overlying or fourth stratum clearly represented an old land surface, for at this level, but at some distance from the human remains, were found traces of old hearths—charred wood and bones, flints fractured by fire, and also several worked flints.

It is probable that the remains were buried by the men who sat around the hearths on the old land surface.

Mr. Cook has submitted the worked flints to several experts, including Reginald Smith, of the British Museum, and the conclusion is that the implements belong to that indeterminate class which occur both in late Palaeolithic and early Neolithic times. They show, however, more distinct affinities to the older than to the newer type of worked flints.

DIRT IS A DELICACY ON SOME SIAM TABLES

The Loas of Siam, it is said, eat earth and enjoy it, just as the German drinks beer, the Frenchman wine, and the Englishman his ale. No one knows exactly where they contracted the habit. Perhaps during some time of great famine when there was nothing else to devour. At any rate the habit is strong, and rich and poor alike indulge.

They prefer it when it is procured near waters so that it has the taste of fish. It is prepared into a pasty substance and smothered in the ground in a hot fire. It is sold in the markets and stores and is served at dinners and big functions of all kinds. Children, women, and men eat it together.

Of course it is dreadfully hard on the digestion and in time produces intense pain and death follows. But, like the opium eater, the dirt eater will be for his food even at death's door.

In some parts of the Congo the dirt is sold in the shape of apples and oranges and all kinds are given out—yellow dirt, brown dirt, gray earth and pinkish variety, too, which is considered a great luxury indeed.

PANTAGES' HEADLINER WILL BE GOLDEN DREAMS

Eleven Scenes and Effects Will Be Gorgeous in the Extreme—Great Fairy Play.

"Golden Dreams," the headliner for Pantages bill, starting Monday, has been described as a fairy fantasy which aptly fits the offering. There are eleven scenes in the piece, all masterpieces of the scenic artist's hand and the effects obtained are said to be gorgeous in the extreme. The scenes depicted are various places where Goldie Locks, a familiar character taken from the tales of Grimm, the master fairy tale writer, Goldie Locks sets out to find a baby brother for a playmate, and her wandering take her into many strange climes and queer, grotesque places. With her, always guarding her from the pitfalls that beset her trail, is the fairy godmother and the great luminous butterfly who hovered over her wherever she went, guarding away all the dangers which followed on her path. It can be readily understood that the story lends itself to grotesque and beautiful scenery which he been built and will further embellish the act.

The costuming has also been carefully manufactured and many pleasing surprises in the way of fanciful wardrobe will be worn by the members of the cast and chorus.

One of the characters which plays an important part in the production is that of a huge polar bear. Of course, this is not a real bear, but the animal part is taken by Charles Winfield, one of the foremost animal impersonators before the public today. He has for many years been a successful pantomime artist in the great Drury Lane productions of London, being brought to this country some seven or eight seasons ago to take one of the leading animal roles in Klaw and Erlanger's marvellous production of Beauty and the Beast, since then none of the larger pantomime of the eastern cities have been complete unless the name of Winfield was on the program and his reputation for this class of work is world-wide. His inimitable impersonation of the polar bear is said to be exceptionally funny, and a most finished performance.

TESS OF D'URBERVILLES AT MONARCH TODAY

First Appearance of This Great Film in Edmonton—Lasts for Half an Hour.

"Tess of the D'Urbervilles," which has been announced as the first of a series of big attractions coming to the Monarch theatre, will be shown at that photo play house today, and will doubtless draw large crowds. Mrs. Fiske, the noted American actress, appears in the title role of the dramatized version of Thomas Hardy's world-famous novel, and will be well worth seeing.

Joseph Zucker is the president of the famous Thayer's Film company, which is offering this production, and Daniel Frohman, one of the best known producers and managers in the theatrical firmament is the managing director. It was only through the influence of Mr. Frohman that persuaded Mrs. Fiske to appear in the motion picture. "Tess of the D'Urbervilles. The story of Tess is one of the most interesting ever put into the drama form. All the characters of the novel are included in the film portrayal and the many thrilling and intense climaxes are admirably adapted to keep the moving picture audience deeply interested from beginning to end.

Thomas Hardy, the author of this book, upon seeing a presentation of the film version in London recently, was highly enthusiastic.

The performance of Tess will last approximately one-half hour, starting at 11 in the morning. The show will be given at intervals of that length throughout the day.

The comedy is high class and the peculiar situations arising from being discovered in an actress' trunk by their trustful, beloved spouses raises all the laughter that you have stored within you, when you see with what splendid effect the capable Vitagraph players get this position of affairs over.

Showing for today and this evening's performance will be the much-awaited colored slides of the latest Parisian fashions. These slides show very clearly the newest graceful lines and cuts of women's wear and on each side of the picture is descriptive matter suggesting the most desirable material and the manner of making the gowns. Every week new slides are received direct from Paris, where they are received direct from Paris, where they models.

Th further offing for this excellent program is a lubin picture entitled "The Message of the Rose," which is again the old story of the red and white so many times before beautifully told. The scenes are laid in Mexico and all the fervor of the Mexican love are characterized in this pretty production. It bears on the present revolution in that the rival lovers for the hand of Chula are leaders respectively in the federal and revolution forces. A lively battle scene is pictured between the rival leaders when the revolutionist leader is taken prisoner and condemned to die. He is liberated and when he returns to realize his dream of love he finds that Chula has consecrated her life to the church.

Ever Have Cramps, Nausea, Vomiting?

THEN USE NERVILINE

For Stomach Pains and Cramps, No Remedy so Prompt as Nerviline. A Westerner's Experience Related.

"It's in an unsettled part of the country like our far West that proves how valuable Nerviline is in the home," writes Mr. Patrick M. Dehaney, from Fort Saskatchewan. "Chills are frequent—a hot drink of Nerviline sends life circulating through the body in three minutes. Cramps or sudden illness at night is one of our terrors. No druggist or doctor is near, but if Nerviline is handy you can get relief. The worst cramps Nerviline has cured in my children in half a minute. I don't think any farmer's wife has any right to be without the protection of Nerviline. In our family we use it for a hundred ills, and it cures them all. One night one of my kiddies had earache and another toothache. Without Nerviline no one could have slept—I applied it as directed, and the children's pains disappeared. My husband uses Nerviline for lame back, rheumatism, aching joints, and all sorts of muscular pains. It is as good inside as outside, and is as much a part of my home as my kitchen stove."

You find a thousand uses for a good family remedy like Nerviline. Get the 50c. family size bottle; it's more economical than the 25c. trial size. Sold by all storekeepers and druggists or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

A quaint story is told to exemplify the pride that every man should take in the work by which he makes a living.

Two street sweepers, seated on a curbstone, were discussing a comrade who had died the day before.

"Yes-s," conceded the other, thoughtfully. "But—don't you think he was a little too weak around the lamp-posts?"—Youth's Companion.

BLESSING OF TOIL.

I bless the fates that I may toil,
I have no wish to waste the day
While others build and other hew
And strive among the chosen few
Who clear obstructions from the way.

To earn the comforts I possess,
To try to prove my usefulness
In helping to push things along.

I do not envy him who sits
In idleness from morn till night
With nothing more to do than fret
Because he finds it hard to get
A hearty, healthy appetite.

GOT RID OF BRONCHITIS

The worst feature of bronchitis is the tendency to return year after year until the system is worn out and given way to consumption, or other ravaging disease.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine owes much of its great popularity to the fact that it positively cures bronchitis, and this is about as severe a test as can be made of a medicine of this kind.

Mr. W. H. Walker, Calmar, Alta., writes: "I am pleased to say that Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has done much good to myself, wife and children. My eldest girl, seven years, had bronchitis, and the doctor who attended her did not seem to do much good. We got Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for her, and she soon got well. We always keep this medicine in the house now ready for use, and find that it soon cures coughs and colds."

In fighting diseases of the throat and lungs half the battle is in having Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine at hand to be used promptly. This is why many people prefer to buy the large family size bottle.

SITUATION MAY BE MUCH GRAVER THAN IT HAS APPEARED

War Office Issues a Sensational Communication Regarding Court Martial

SUSPENDED BECAUSE TOO LIMITED IN ITS SCOPE

London, Dec. 5.—The war office last evening issued a surprisingly sensational communique to the press. It was said that the proposed court martial to be held on Monday next into the charges of corruption against certain army quartermasters had been suspended because "the war office is advised by legal authorities that the jurisdiction possessed by such a court martial would be too limited for the action which further inquiry shows to be necessary in this case." People are now asking how much graver the situation is than appears on the surface, and there can be no doubt that until there is some further action the whole subject will be discussed with vigor on the reassembling of the parliament in February.

The suspension of the court martial is taken to mean that certain civilians and officers not on the active list who are implicated in the scandals are beyond the jurisdiction of the court as proposed. Military courts have no power to compel civilians to testify in time of peace, and it is therefore probable that a special commission of inquiry will be appointed with full power to take such legal actions as may be found necessary. Meanwhile, the five officers accused have been relieved and have been permitted full freedom of action.

NERVES ARE SORE AND PAINFUL

Neuritis, of inflammation of the nerves, is the most painful of nervous ailments. You may feel the soreness or tenderness throughout the body, or it may be confined to certain nerves. In the head it is called neuralgia; in the hips and legs, sciadica; in the face, tiedoloreux, and in the chest, intercostal neuralgia.

The application of dry heat affords relief from the lance-like pains, but the essential thing is to build up the exhausted nervous system by the persistent use of such a restorative as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You will have other symptoms to warn you of the depleted condition of the nervous system, and this is your opportunity to restore to the body the energy and vigor of health.

While this great food cure is insulting new vitality into the starved nerve cells it is also forming new, firm flesh and tissue, and, by noting your increase in weight, you can prove beyond doubt the benefit being obtained by its use. This is Nature's way of curing diseases of the nerves, and it is the only way to obtain lasting benefit.

WEST MADE TO BEAR COST OF FREIGHT WHEN EAST CANNOT

So Declares Counsel for Dominion Government Before Commission —Compelled to Pay More Than Its Share—Existing Rates Based on All Traffic Will Carry.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—For five and a half hours yesterday the railway board listened to the arguments of Mr. James Bicknell, K.C., Toronto, chief counsel for the dominion government in the western rates case. When the board adjourned at 5 o'clock Tuesday, Mr. Bicknell said that he would probably be able to conclude his arguments in an hour. Throughout yesterday Mr. Bicknell presented his facts in a deliberate and methodical manner. Quite frequently his statements were challenged by F. H. Christie, chief counsel for the Canadian Pacific railway, and occasionally by members of the board, but anything in the nature of heated altercations were avoided.

Mr. Bicknell at one point in his argument declared: "If the east is not able to bear its proportion of expense the west is made to do it, and consequently the west is paying a greater share than 18 per cent. The amount it should pay towards the general expenses on the amount of the capital actually invested, in the west they would prove that the Canadian Pacific railway has a very small sum invested when the grant of 25,000,000 acres of land and the line constructed in the west by the government, is taken into consideration."

Mr. Bicknell contended that the exhibit submitted by J. P. Muller, the American rate expert, were enough, in actual calculation of the position of the Canadian Pacific railway, to constitute a basis from which the board might draw conclusions in fixing rates for the west.

All Traffic Will Carry.

The existing rates, he declared, had been arrived at on the theory of "all the traffic will carry."

In view of the lack of real competition there was nothing for the western people to do but to come before the board and demand that in the matter of rates they be given treatment equal to that received by the people of Eastern Canada.

Counsel for the government raised the point that, according to the act of 1886, the C.P.R. be allowed to earn 10 or 15 per cent. on the actual expenditure of the company. This means, he argued, that the mileage of that portion of the C.P.R. system which was built by the government, is not entitled to earn 10 per cent., but rather its earnings must be applied to the earnings of that portion of the system built by the C.P.R.

What the company should do with its earnings or profits over the 15 per cent. mark is to be decided on by the board.

Mr. Bicknell appealed to the board to view the case not as a court of law would do, but rather as a body having wide powers of administration over nearly all the railways in Canada.

In connection with figures relative to the cost of road and equipment for the Canadian Pacific, which Mr. Bicknell read, some objection was raised by C.P.R. counsel as to their source.

"I asked the company for the cost of their road and equipment. I was told I could get it in the annual report, and now they say the figures therein are only bookkeeping entries, and not to be used for anything else," said Mr. Bicknell. "We are either to be played fast and loose with, or we are to take what we are given as true."

We Pay Greater Percentage.

Mr. Bicknell then went on to state that the C.P.R.'s total surplus assets after paying all capital charges in addition to the value of road and securities in excess of book value, and the additional value of the road constructed by the government and given to them, which formed no part of the entries as regards cost of road and equipment.

In dividing this surplus to find where it comes from, it was found that the passenger revenue for 1911 in the east was $4,000,000, approximately the same as in the west.

It was in freight that enormous differences were found. Freight earnings west were $15,000,000, and in the east $6,000,000. The proportion of lines east and west of Port William, respectively, was 41 and 58 per cent. Applying mileage to freight earnings the western proportion of the total was 70 per cent. and the eastern 24 per cent.

"The west is called upon to bear the burden of the eastern debentures," said Mr. Bicknell. "If the eastern ends of the line were not able to earn their full proportion the work, instead of earning the total surplus of 18 percent on account of water competition and competition by the American railroads in the east, was paying 30 percent on the capital invested there. If the cost of construction west of Port Arthur could be obtained it would be found the railway had a comparatively small amount invested there because of subsidies, land sales, etc., which had helped out in the west.

Entitled to 10 Per Cent.

"We do not sugest that those people, who were pioneers in railroad venture who invested money—$198,000,000 in this venture—and assisted in the development of the country should not be entitled to 10 percent on their investment but when they get that they should be subject to this body which should see they do not earn an inordinate profit over this amount," said Mr. Bicknell. He went on to state that it would be of no use to put in any more figures till the board decided what view point it would adopt when it could require railways to keep their accounts as to furnish them.

Chairman Drayton: "There has never been any attempt to lay down in this country what a fair and reasonable rate is."

The question of the rates said Mr. Bicknell, could not be fixed by any hard and fast rule in a big country like Canada. Multitudious exceptions would arise when the tariffs were actually being made.

Mr. Bicknell then entered into a calculation to show that after making allowance for the value of the lands sold and other subsidies received the net cost to the C.P.R. of the construction of its western lines was approximately $52,000,000. Land sold up to present time had brought in $190,000,000 and there still remains 6,000,000 acres to be sold. "We have not attempted to work out a similar statement in regard to eastern lines except by way of comparison" said Mr. Bicknell.

Basis Must Be Actual Cost.

"No one will dispute," said the government counsel that one of the predominate factors in the fixing of the rates must be the cost of service. The only question which remains open for the board to decide is as to whether the segregation of freight and passenger revenues and expenditure made by Mr. Muller are correct or approximately so.

"My contention is that it is not nearly as correct a discussion as is possible to make with the figures at our disposal."

Mr. Bicknell argued that in the Vancouver rates cases the C.P.R. had submitted statements which contained a segregation of passenger and freight revenues.

This was indignantly denied by F. H. Chrysler, counsel for the C.P.R.

Isaac Pitblado counsel for the Winnipeg board of trade, came to the support of the government counsel. He declared in the Vancouver case the railroad had put in an exhibit based on the segregation of the cost of service.

"There must be segregation of the passenger and freight revenues on some principle or another" declared Mr. Bicknell.

"There is no way of escaping from it."

Government counsel declared that the present standard of the rate charges in the west have been fixed largely as a matter of bargaining. The railways have collected all the people will pay.

"All the traffic will bear" suggested Mr. Drayton.

No Effective Competition.

"The difficulty now is to get the C.P.R. to come down" said Mr. Bicknell. "This is probably because it has no effective competition. The only way the people can secure redress is to go to the railways board and ask it to arrive at some system which will not yield excess profits for the company."

Chairman Drayton interrupted to point out that on two occasions at least, the railways had agreed to a reduction in the rates—when the Manitoba government entered into a certain agreement with the Canadian Northern and when the Dominion government made a contract with the C.P.R. in regard to its Crows Nest Pass line.

"Neither of these agreements touched class rates. The railway dealt with commodity rates only" declared Mr. Pitblado.

"The Manitoba agreement covered all class of rates" remarked the chairman.

There was some further argument as to the reliability of Mr. Muller's figures before the five o'clock adjournment. Mr. Bicknell not having concluded his argument.

To the Electors of the City of Edmonton

In offering himself for re-election to the chief magistracy of the City of Edmonton for the year 1914, Mayor Short begs to offer for the consideration of ratepayers the following matters:

Municipal Experience

He was mayor of the city for three successive terms previous to 1913. These were the years 1902-3-4.

He helped to frame the original charter of the city and also such amendments as development has since made necessary.

He was chosen for the fourth time for the office of mayor for the year 1913.

He has at all times given considerable thought and study to municipal systems and institutions. He is progressive but not reactionary and believes that good administration is a first necessity whatever the constitutional forms may be.

1913 Administration

Shows the inauguration and carrying out of a policy of civic improvement fully up to the demands of the growth of the city.

The protection of the interests of settled labor in the city by providing a full season's work.

The carrying out of measures of finance: (a) to meet a deficit of five million dollars; (b) to carry on new work; (c) to establish and conserve the credit of the city for future monies.

The institution of economy in civic administration by cutting off of unnecessary departments.

The reorganization of the audit department of the city for greater accuracy, system and efficiency.

The securing of legislation to make possible the consolidated marketing of civic and school debentures.

The institution of a critical audit of work and a critical estimate of projected services on the double basis of economy and efficiency.

The fixing of a settled policy of pure water supply above the point of local contamination.

The institution of a consistent policy in regard to pavement extensions on the double basis of close inside and main arteries.

The construction of street railway belt lines and the linking up of city and suburban lines.

The co-operation with the School Board with respect to the establishment of a Technical School on the Syndicate avenue park site.

1914 Programme

Carrying out of the policy of securing a permanent pure water supply.

Progress in the better organization of administration departments.

The carrying out of cost invstigations with respect to all types of services and the instituting of necessary reforms on a cost and efficiency basis.

The direct appeal to ratepayers for judgment on all matters of vital and near interest relating to civic improvements and expenditures, charter amendments, franchises or municipal powers and control.

EATING MEAT REGULAR CLOGS THE KIDNEYS, THEN YOUR BACK HURTS

Flush your Kidneys occasionally with a tablespoon of Salts to avoid danger.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

STOIC INDIANS WEEP LOUDLY AT COMRADES' GRAVES

A Unique Incident of Lake Disaster is Burial of Indians Near Sarnia.

Sarnia, Dec. 5—In matters of emotion the full-blooded Indian is said to be a stoic. It has been his creed, handed down to him from traditional ancestry, but that ancient teaching was not strong enough to withstand the emotional attack made upon the Indians of the reservation by the Rev. Nicholas Plain.

They wept. For Nicholas Plain was preaching to them the epilogue in the lives of two of their number, George Smith and Thomas Stone, once wheelsmen of the lost steamer McGean. There were a score or more of these Indians who wept, not furtively, but loudly, openly, and that is what the older citizens of Sarnia say they never saw a full-grown Indian do before.

The afternoon was an epoch of sorrow in the history of the Chippewas and the Ojibways, and the scene of strongest emotion occurred by the side of the two graves. The whole reservation was there, all but a few of the older squaws who were unable to hobble along the muddy roads. Only the very youngest of the children were missing, and the dark olive downcast features of the three hundred Indians who gathered from up and down the river were fixed at the beginning of the service, with a determination to be calm.

Three Services Held.

There were two bodies, and following the Indian custom, there were three services. One service was conducted by the Rev. Walter Rigsby, Methodist minister on the reserve, at the home of Jim Stone ,over the brother, Thomas; the second being held by the local Indian minister, Nicholas Plain, at the house of Thomas Jackson, over the second body.

Then the two cavalcades met in the Indian cemetery, a half-mile back from the river. It was here that custom told. Nicholas Plain took the service over the two bodies. Standing between the graves, with bared head and hands outspread ,this man with the lean, aquiline face, exhorted his brothers in the Ojibway tongue. He began softly and mild at first, smooth as the treacherous water which had robbed the tribes of two of their best. What he said, the few whites, who were crowded at the back, could not know. But they did know that his voice grew louder, and that as his big hands raised higher there seemed to be a queer pleading in his tones. Punctuating this were swift, dramatic pauses. Then the Indians wept. Pathetic, listless squaws hugged their children tighter; men shuffled. Two of their number were gone. And while eyes were still wet the Indian choir broke into a slow chant.

March of Mourners.

"Dust to dust." It must have been that which Nicholas Plain was saying as the heavy clods of earth began to fall back into the graves. Through the chanting of the choir cut the dull sobs of the mourners. At last the graves were filled. Out in the west the sun suddenly broke through its bank of clouds to smile down upon them. Eyes were dried ;then came the plodding homeward, many crowded into carryalls, some tramping across the open fields. Stoicism was theirs again.

Also on Neck, Big Bare Spot on Crown of Head, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured,

198 Chapleau St., Montreal, Que.—"When my brother and I went to school we got ringworms from the other children and our hair all fell out. We had them on our heads and on our necks. For months I had a big bare spot on the crown of my head the size of a fifty-cent piece. Mother tried everything, all kinds of ointments, to cure us but everything seemed no good until one day she saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment. It was Cuticura Soap and Ointment that cured us." (Signed) Mrs. M. Blake, May 31, 1913.

ITCHY RASH ON HANDS

Fergus, Ont.—"Cuticura Soap and Ointment completely cured me of a rash on my hands. The rash was red like water blisters, very itchy and sore. Scratching made them sorer. The irritation was bad at night. I tried many remedies which did not do any good. I used Cuticura Soap as a wash in warm water night and morning with Cuticura Ointment and in less than a week it was all gone." (Signed) Mrs. Isabella Gibson, May 22, 1913.

The regular use of Cuticura Soap for toilet and bath not only tends to preserve, purify and beautify the skin, scalp, hair and hands, but assists in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores, the common cause of pimples, blackheads and other unwholesome conditions of the skin. MUNICIPAL MEETINGS HELD AT VARIOUS POINTS IN CITY

McNamara Promises Elective Commission and Ratification of Alleged Evils—Mayor Short Explains Difficulties Encountered and Points the Way Out—Other Aspirants Speak.

One of the most unique meetings in connection with the present campaign in the city of Edmonton will be held tonight in the McDougall Methodist Church. This meeting has not been arranged by any of the candidates but is being held under the auspices of the church. Every candidate in the field has been invited to speak.

The chair will be occupied by Rev. Dr. Armstrong, the pastor of the church, who will be supported on the platform by a number of other prominent clergymen of the city churches. The plan or program of the meeting will be first, seven-minute addresses from the aldermanic candidates in alphabetical order. Next will come the aspirants for school board honors, each of whom will be allowed five minutes to address the meeting.

As a grand finale the two candidates for mayoralty honors, William Short and William J. McNamara, will each be allowed half an hour to discuss the issues of the campaign.

The church has a seating capacity of about 2500 and as this will be the last big meeting of the series it is expected that the church auditorium will be packed to the doors before the opening address is given.

Another big rally of the supporters of W. J. McNamara has also been arranged for in the Bijou theatre on Whyte avenue for the benefit of Edmonton south residents who may not care to come over to the north side for the big final rally in McDougall church.

McNamara at Empire.

The municipal pot was boiling over last night as the candidates rushed in their motors from one to another of the many meetings held throughout the city. There were four big meetings all of which were addressed by many of the aspirants for office during the coming year. The largest demonstration of the evening was at the Empire auditorium, where W. J. McNamara and his stalwart supporters held forth.

Mr. McNamara reviewed much of the work done by the present council and pointed out where the weak spots were most in evidence. He then dealt with some of the things which he proposed to do for the city if elected to the highest office in the gift of the people of Edmonton. He assured his hearers that he would work for the change of the present form of government which has broken down so badly, as has been well illustrated during the present year. He told his various audiences that the elective commission form of government is the one thing needful to rectify the present evils.

Following the mayoralty candidate, J. A. Kinney, A. T. Mode, Rice Sheppard, Dr. Campbell, Walter Ramsey, and Alex. May gave short addresses, setting forth the stand they would each take if elected.

The utilities formed the basis for the arguments brought forth by J. A. Kinney. He stated that there should be cheaper power in Edmonton if the city is to take its rightful place as an industrial centre. He suggested that the power plant should either be moved nearer to the coal supply or there should be some special arrangements for the cheap transportation of coal to the present site. In dealing with the water problem he said that by all means the intake pipe should be taken above the source of local contamination.

Rice Sheppard spoke of his many years of experience in various lines, and promised that, if elected on Monday, he would give his attention to the many problems he said must be met in the city of Edmonton during the next two years.

Dr. Campbell had some spontaneous humor which keyed up the audience and removed temporarily some of the staleness of the municipal dope which has been pouring forth in a steady stream now for many nights. He spoke of being very close to a gas explosion last Thursday evening, but stated that the people of Edmonton will loose more than their eyebrows and their hair if they allow the Pelican gas bunch to get hold of the franchise which they are seeking. Then he touched on the inadequate lighting in the east end of the city, suggesting that perhaps the citizens could get around by their sense of smell, for they had the incinerator on the one side and the packing plants on the other.

A. T. Mode was in good form and told some of the things that he hoped to do for the people if elected. He scored Mayor Short and the bunch in council who are favoring the Pelican gas franchise. Mr. Mode told the people that it was time they had a change and hoped that at the polls Monday they would state emphatically where they stood and what kind of government they want next year.

Alex. May appeared before the public on behalf of his candidature for the school board. He reminded the people that he had served on the board continuously from 1906 to 1909, and if elected again on Monday he would endeavor to serve as faithfully in future as he had done in the past.

He stated that he favored a vigorous policy, more of the permanent and less of the temporary style of buildings. He suggested that it is now time that the school board had a suitable administration building. In dealing with the former superintendent, Mr. May said that even if he wanted reinstatement he would not support him.

Joseph A. Clarke took advantage of all the time at his disposal. He talked like a silk, touching on many of the pitfalls into which the present administration had fallen and suggesting how these conditions could be remedied. He objected in very strong language to the secret meetings which have been so prominent during the present administration, and criticized the council for having abolished the parks and architect's departments. He declared himself as opposed to the new numbering scheme, and promised that if those opposed to it are in the majority next year he would vote that not another dollar be spent on it, until the people have had an opportunity of saying what they want.

During the evening meetings were held in Alberta College, at Mill Creek, in the High school, at which many of the candidates appeared and gave short speeches as to their views on the issues at stake and the stand they expect to take if elected on Monday next.

Short at Four Meetings.

Mayor Short addressed three meetings on the south side and then appeared at the High school. In every case he took opportunity to give a brief resume of the work accomplished during the present year. He reminded the people again of the many difficulties which he had encountered during the year, many of these he said, had been overcome, and if returned to office, he promised to continue the work which he has only in part covered this year.

In addressing the gathering at the High school W. J. McNamara stated that his campaign thus far had cost him something like $200, and it looked as though that would not be all. This condition he did not think was right, as under present conditions it costs anywhere from $40,000 to $50,000 to be elected mayor of the city.

John Cook followed along the line of his text, more efficiency and greater economy in the administration of the affairs of the city. A dollar's worth for every dollar spent, is his motto.

S. H. Smith occupied the few minutes allowed him at the High school to tell what he would do if elected. One of his strong points was that there should be a permanent head to the Commission board, a man who might be termed "the city manager." Such an official he thought would right many of the wrongs that have been seen in the past.

In his talk J. R. McIntosh took occasion to refute the insinuations made against him by Joseph Clarke. He stated that he was on "no slate," but on his own feet. He promised to act independently on all matters that came before council if elected to represent the people next year.

J. A. Clarke also addressed the crowd at the High school. His theme was much the same as at the other meetings which he attended during the evening. He promised the people that their best interests would be served if they should see fit to elect him to the council where he has already served during past years.

A. T. Mode took a few minutes at the High school to tell those gathered there why he was in the field as a candidate on the south side and what he intended to do if elected to the council.

At this meeting addresses were also delivered by Dr. Crang, Miss Louise Moore, T. H. Miller and Dr. Park, all candidates promising to work for the best interests of the board and each had some particular point or points which they hoped to bring to an issue next year if represented on the board.

At Alberta College.

The first meeting of the evening was held in Alberta College at 7.15 p.m. The first speaker was W. J. McNamara. A fair attendance of the students greeted the mayoralty candidate, who hurriedly reviewed his platform on which he will stand or fall on Monday next.

Joseph Clarke followed and made a strong appeal to the student body, suggesting that they knew too well the present conditions and that it is impossible to put anything over on students. From the very day of their infation, he stated, that they begin to study human nature and soon learn to read the different characteristics of different individuals. He told them of the many things that have taken place during the present year and promised them that if they would get out and give him a vote on Monday their confidence would not be misplaced.

A. T. Mode followed and for a period of five minutes he appealed to the students for their support. He reminded them that he too was a student, having graduated some years ago from that good old institution, the University of Toronto. He asked that he be remembered next Monday when they poll their votes and promised to work for the extension of higher education for the institution.

Rice Sheppard illustrated his talk by the use of a sketch which represented that wonderful bird, the Pelican. The figure of a man was drawn alongside the Pelican, representing the people. The Pelican is shown in the act of extracting with its long beak the coins from the pockets of the people. Mr. Sheppard told the students that the bird had a very "short" body and an exceptionally long bill, which was used to reach down and take the last dollar from the people. He then asked "What are we going to do with this bird?" As an answer he turned to the other side of the sheet, on which he had his drawing, and displayed the representative of the people in the act of twisting the head off the bird. He stated that the only thing to do was to take its head off, and suggested that such is the only thing to do with all franchise grabbing institutions or individuals.

Miss Jennie Stork Hill gave a very neat address on her position as a candidate for the Public school board. She told first of her qualifications, having taken the degrees of M.A. and B.A. She stated that since the age of four years, when she first started to go to school she had taken a deep interest in educational matters. Many of the candidates during the present campaign had told their various audiences of having started in life as poor boys, but Mrs. Hill assured the students by stating that she did not even have this opportunity as she had to start life as "a poor girl" and earn her own education. She then referred to the attempt which is being made to cheat her out of a seat on the board by the nomination of another candidate with a similar name. She reminded the students to remember the name, Mrs. Jennie Stork Hill, and not be confused in marking their ballots. Mrs. Hill made a good impression on the students and clearly demonstrated that she is amply qualified to serve as a worthy representative of the people on the school board.

Spoke at University.

Mr. McNamara addressed the students and faculty at the University of Alberta today between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock, in which he discussed the issues of the campaign.

Ruthenian Meeting

The Ruthenian ratepayers are calling a big Ruthenian meeting at the Ruthenian Bursa for Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at 1044 Kinistino avenue. Both candidates, Mr. W. Short and Mr. J. McNamara, are cordially invited to be present and to address this meeting.

To prevent disease- resist disease germs

SMALLPOX is prevented by vaccination — the injection of vaccine.
DIPHTHERIA is prevented by the injection of anti-toxin.
These enable the body to produce substances which prevent the growth of smallpox and diphtheria germs in the blood.

There are many other diseases, nearly, if not quite as dangerous, and far more common — typhoid fever, the grippe, bronchitis, pneumonia, catarrh, rheumatism, and a score of others — that can be prevented less painfully and more easily by making the body strong to resist germ infection.

Rexall
TRADE MARK
Olive Oil Emulsion
(With Hypophosphites)

Is designed for the prevention as well as the relief of disease — by enabling the body to overcome the germs. It, at the same time, strengthens and tones the nerves, nourishes the blood, puts the entire system into a proper healthy condition to combat and successfully resist disease.

Every person not in perfect health has incipient germs of some distressing ailment in his or her system.

Cold weather, over-work, excesses of any kind, are liable to bring about just the conditions under which those latent disease germs will get the upper hand, and put you on your back "down sick."

You who are run-down, tired-out, nervous —

You who, though not sick enough to give up, still don't feel good —

You who are apparently well, and want to stay well —

Take home a bottle of Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion today, and use it as a means to get well and keep well.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is a real nerve-food tonic.

In this it is different from most other so-called "tonics" which either have no food value and do nothing more than temporarily stimulate you, leaving you in a worse condition than before or, having food value, still are so unpleasant to take that many people can't keep them down.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is pleasant to take. The Hypophosphites it contains tone the nerves. The pure Olive Oil nourishes both nerves and blood.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion strengthens you, puts snap and ginger and vitality into your system. It makes you feel better and stronger. It improves your digestion and your bowel action.

It contains no alcohol nor any dangerous or habit forming drugs.

It is guaranteed to be just as represented above — to do all that is claimed above — to satisfy you in every way, or your money back without quibble or question.

PARLIAMENT WILL ASSEMBLE AGAIN ON JANUARY 15

Whether There Will Be Legislation on Naval Defence is Not Announced.

REDISTRIBUTION BILL CONTENTIOUS MEASURE

Many Days of Session Will Go to Consider the High Cost of Living.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—Parliament will assemble on Thursday, January 15.

This was decided at a meeting of the cabinet held yesterday afternoon presided over by Premier Borden. The proclamation formally calling parliament together will be published at an early date in Canada Gazette. The fixing of January 15 as the date for the opening will give the government a period of six weeks in which to prepare the sessional program which promises to be a fairly heavy one.

Whether or not there will be legislation dealing with naval defence has not been announced, but the probabilities are that the question will again be brought up at the approaching session.

The redistribution bill made necessary by the last census and which will greatly increase the representation of the west may easily prove to be most contentious measure of the session.

Bills to consolidate and revise the railway act, to amend the companys act, and the civil service act, will be introduced. The latter will probably make provision for a system of superannuation for the inside service and will bring into effect a number of resolutions made by George Murray in his report. The highways report which has twice fallen by the wayside, will again be introduced as will a bill to amend the merchant shipping act and a bill to regulate the control of explosives.

It is expected that many days of the session will be taken up with the consideration of the tariff and the high cost of living. The debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne will probably occupy the attention of parliament for the first week as Sir Wilfrid Laurier is almost certain to move an amendment calling for abolition of tariff on food products.

NEW FRENCH CABINET STILL IS UNFORMED

Ribot Cannot Be Induced By President Poincare to Undertake its Construction.

Paris, Dec. 5.—At noon today no further progress had been made in the formation of the new French cabinet. The venerable senator, Alexander Felix Joseph Ribot, who has twice held the premier's hip, called at the palace of the Elysees today at the request of President Poincare, but could not be induced to undertake the construction of a new cabinet.

The resignation of the old cabinet under Premier Barthou was made necessary by its defeat on its finance bill.

President Poincare afterwards requested Senator Jean Dupuy, a former minister, to undertake the task which he accepted provisionally pending consultation with his political friends.

IS YOUR BACK FULL OF ACHES ALL DAY LONG?

That Stab-like Pain in the Back is Sure Indication of Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Anna Rodriguez writes as follows from her home in Valencia: "For a long time I suffered with failing strength and nagging headaches. My condition grew steadily worse, my limbs became bloated and shaky, I was sallow and thin, felt rheumatic pains, dizziness and chills. I unfortunately didn't suspect my kidneys and was nearly dead when I discovered the true cause of my sufferings. I read so much about the wonderful health and strength that comes to all who use Dr. Hamilton's Pills that I felt sure they would help me. Such blessings of health and comfort I got from Dr. Hamilton's Pills I can't describe. They speedily put me right, and their steady use keeps me active, energetic, strong and happy. I strongly urge others to regulate and tone their system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut."

REV. A. LAZENBY WILL PREACH TO UNITARIANS

Massachusetts Divine Making Tour of Western Provinces—Will Speak Here on Sunday.

Rev. Albert Lazenby of Lynn, Massachusetts, Billings lecturer of the American Unitarian association, is expected to arrive in Edmonton this afternoon and will occupy the Unitarian pulpit for several Sunday mornings to come. While here he will probably be the guest of Prof. W. H. Alexander, of the provincial university, who is also president of the local Unitarian board of managers.

Mr. Lazenby, who is touring the Canadian northwest, will make Edmonton headquarters, while lecturing during the week in nearby cities and towns. Of him Henry W. Towle, secretary of the Unitarian association, writes from Boston as follows:

"Mr. Lazenby was born in England, and spent a considerable part of his life there. He has been in this country about ten years and has settled at Lynn for the last eight years, where he has had a highly successful career. He is an admirable preacher, one of the ablest of our ministers. He desires a change of scene for the time being, and is interested in the Canadian northwest, so that he has been willing to accept an appointment as Billings lecturer on leave of absence from his church. We think him one of the best men whom we could send as a visitor to the northwest at the present time."

Mr. Lazenby's subject for his Sunday morning address at the old Presbyterian church, corner of Jasper and Third, will probably be announced in tomorrow's dailies. The general public is cordially invited.

SEVEN HUNDRED DOLLARS TAKEN AT Y.W.C.A. BAZAAR

Effort to Raise Funds for Two Branches Proves a Success.

BOOTHS DECORATED AND DAINTILY SUPPLIED

Ladies Deserving of Much Credit for Energy and Enterprise Shown.

Seven hundred dollars in eight hours, or nearly $100 an hour, is the splendid record that has been established by the ladies and their friends of the Y.W.C.A. at the bazaar held yesterday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church in their efforts to raise sufficient funds to pay for the furnishings for their two new branches which have been recently opened.

That the bazaar was such a success, is entirely due to the splendid efforts of the ladies connected with the Y.W.C.A. and also the ladies aid of the First Presbyterian church. The bazaar was prettily divided off into stalls or booths, which contained everything that is needed, especially at this time of year, when Christmas is so near.

The Japanese tea room attracted considerable interest. This was taken care of by Mrs. Garrison, Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Hunter. Here, tea was served in true Japanese style, and it was very well patronized while in operation. The dolls' booth also evoked considerable favorable comment. This booth represented a great deal of labor on the part of the young ladies of the Y., as the dolls had all been dressed by them and being so near Christmas, there was quite a demand for them.

Among the other booths which deserve mention, were the novelty booth, embroidery, candy and fancy work booths. Then there was the "High Supper" given by the ladies aid of the First Presbyterian church, which was appreciated by all, and netted considerable for the ladies, who turned it over to the Y.W.C.A.

The object of this bazaar, which was held in the First Presbyterian church by the Y.W.C.A., was to raise funds for the furnishing of the two new branches that have been opened by them, one on Third street, Strathcona, and the other on the corner of Boyle street and Namayo avenue. Much credit is due not only to the ladies of the Y. and their friends, and also to Mrs. Rimmer, who has been unceasing in her efforts to make the bazaar a success.

"NOT DRINKING ALL DAY."

Fred Hunter Gives His Explanation of Death of Brother-in-law.

The following statement has been made by Fred Hunter, brother-in-law of Edward Wray, who was alleged to have been doped and died from the results on Wednesday evening, says:

"We were not drinking all day, as alleged, as we had been working, and did not leave the house that night until about 7.30, and it must have been 8 o'clock or 8.30 before we had the first drink in the Richelieu hotel. We were there about an hour and a half, and as we went out I noticed Rideout staggering as though he was drunk, and when we got to the railway tracks he fell. I called to him to get up, and come home, and he said, 'All right Fred, I'm coming.' These were the last words that he spoke, and I can't figure out when or how he got doped, but as the doctor says he was doped, he must have been."

CHAPMAN AND WALKER SUE CONSOLIDATED AGENCIES

Action For Recovery of Machinery Supplied to Defendants and Still Unsettled For.

The case of Walker vs. The Consolidated Agencies, is being tried today in the supreme court, before Mr. Justice Walsh.

The case as it appears in the statement of claim is, that on or about November 15, 1912, the defendants, The Consolidated Aegncies, Ltd., agreed in writing to purchase an engine and pump from the complainent, and agreed to pay them the sum of $5,500 payable as follows: Fifty percent against bill of lading, 25 percent on installation and 25 percent 30 days after installation.

The machinery was duly delivered and installed in May, 1913, and defendant accepted the same and paid the sum of $4,750 on account as agreed, but have not made any further effort to pay the balance although it is due and owing, and have been repeatedly demanded by the plaintiff and the sum of $4,750 still due and owing.

The plaintiff, Chapman & Walker, Ltd., have endeavored to remove the machinery but have been forcibly prevented by the defendant, although there is a clause in the contract which was signed to teh effect, that until the full amount of the purchase is paid, the title of the property shall not pass from the company. They further calim that they delivered spare parts in connection with the engine and pump to the value of $133.33, which the defendant accepted, but refuses to pay for .

The plaintiffs therefore claim as follows:

1st. A declaration that they are entitled to a lien upon the engine and pump for the sum of $4,750 and to a lien on the spare parts for the sum of $133.33.

2nd. An order restraining the defendant, its servants, officers and agents, from any way interfering with or preventing the plaintiff from removing the engine and pump.

3rd. Judgment for the sum of $4,883.33.

4th. Cost of this action.

His lordship reserved judgment.

MERCY IS RECOMMENDED.

NORTH EDMONTON PEOPLE WANT NUISANCE ABATED

Wait on Mayor This Morning and Are Told Injunction May Be Taken Out.

A delegation of residents from the vicinity of Agnes street waited on the mayor this morning and again laid before him the necessity for some immediate action being taken in regard to abating the nuisance being caused by the sewer used by the P. Burns packing plant.

The mayor stated that he has written to the P. Burns company, notifying them of the conditions and asking them to take immediate action to have the nuisance stopped. He assured those who are complaining that it is well within their right to take out an injunction against the company if the warnings are not heeded within a reasonable time.

Dr. Whiteaw has already been out to investigate conditions and he has reported that the case is not overdrawn.

RECEIVES NEW MEMBERS

Elect Officers—Ladies Lodge Will Hold Bazaar in Aid of Home for Girls.

The regular meeting of the Edmonton Local Orange lodge, No. 1701, was held in the Cameron Hall on Wednesday evening. The lodge room was crowded and extra seats had to be provided. A number of candidates were received into membership and some more applications were handed to the committee for report at the next meeting. A delegation was present from the Ladies' Orange Benevolent association, asking for assistance at the bazaar which they will hold in the Old Presbyterian church, corner of Third street and Jasper avenue, on the 12th and 13th of December. The proceeds of this bazaar will be used for the formation of a home for girls in the city. They were assured of the support of all present, as the need of an institution of this kind is very great. The district master, W. Smirl, then took the chair and conducted the election of officers with the following results: W. M. Purvis Robson; D.M., G. R. Ernest; chaplain, W. Weatherby; recording secretary, W. J. Grant; financial secretary, A. O. McKitrick; treasurer, W. H. Bell; lecturers, A. Munro and Thos. Laraay; director of ceremonies, H. Gale; committee, A. Pepper, A. Aiken, R. Green, H. Hall, P. B. Taylor; auditors, A. Pepper and G. King. The installation will be held on the 17th inst. This lodge has made wonderful progress during the last year, and now has a membership of about 160, which is over double that of a year ago.

HUGHES MENTIONED BY REPUBLICANS

Party is Already Preparing for a Convention, and Committee Will Meet Shortly.

Washington, Dec. 5.—It is expected that when the Republican national committee meets in this city, Dec. 16, it will issue the call for the national convention, fixing the date and stating the purpose. The date now most favored is the spring or early summer of 1914, preferably May or early June.

Nothing has been decided as to the convention city. Washington would be glad to have the convention for congress will then be in session and there might be political reasons for holding the meeting here. But Washington is far from the center of population and the prevailing basis of representation since the chinese spokesmen in this matter. The progressive Republicans have said, and Pres. Taft and St. Paul come into the limelight. Chicago say, that if the basis can be changed as to reduce the influence of the southern states in future conventions, a long step will have been taken toward bringing about party harmony. The conservative forces within the party for a long time opposed any change, as a reapportionment but were finally induced to withdraw their opposition. It is reported that the order for the convention will not be made by the national committee on Dec. 16, by practically unanimous vote.

BOARD OF TRADE IS ORGANIZED AT WABAMUN

Energetic Officers Elected to Promote the Welfare of People and Business of Town.

Wabamun business men are alive to their own interests, ... most enthusiastic meeting was held in M. L. Lester's hardware on Thursday, and a board of trade formed for the further of matters of common weal. The officers elected were: President, Dr. W. E. Anderson; Vice-president, C. G. Engelbrecht; secretary-treasurer; G. C. Laight.

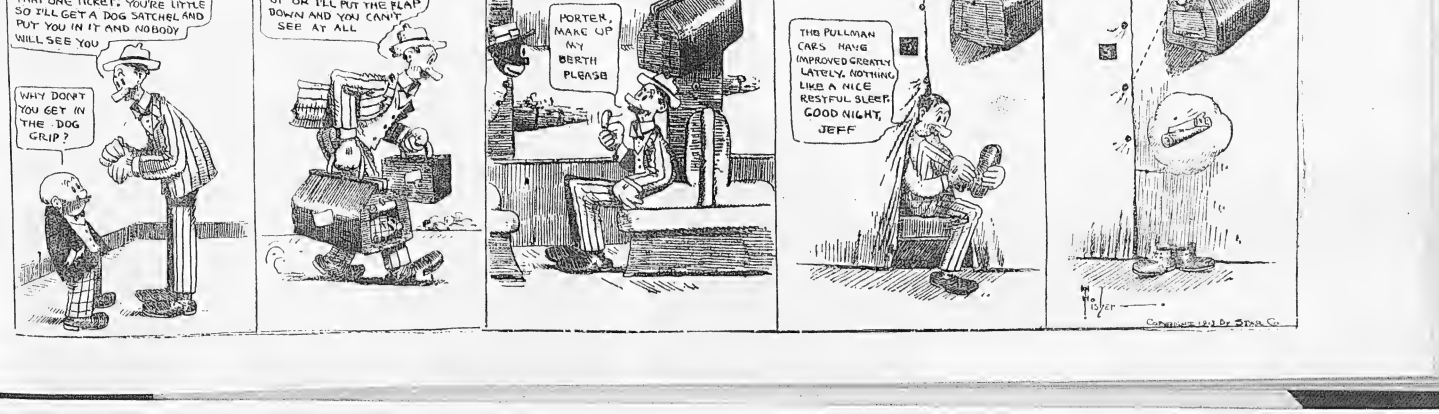

Executive—Messrs. W. J. Taylor, W. L. Forster, A. Stelling, H. L. Carter, Mr. Reid and Rev. Mr. Teal.

So fundamental is the upbuilding of rural life, in the opinion of Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, that the observance in the schools of one day each year "Agriculture and Rural Life Days" should become a national custom, instead of being confined to a few states, as at present.

While party leaders are not eager at this early day to have the question of candidates for 1916 given too much attention they realize that the holding of the national convention next year will inevitably lead to the discussion of men who are more or less available for the presidential nomination. There is no warrant, however, it may be said with authority, for the rather prominent mention recently of Justice Hughes of the supreme court. The convention of 1916 may or may not consider Judge Hughes' name. This will depend on situations that have not yet developed and most of all, on the attitude of Mr. Hughes himself. He has steadily refused since going on the supreme bench to permit the use of his name in connection with a political office. It may be said authoritively that the recent mention of his name was without his knowledge or consent and that if he had dissented, that mention at all it would have been to say that he would not be a candidate for the nomination or accept the position were it offered him. What his attitude may be by 1916 nobody knows.

In the holding of the convention next year, the radicals of the party—the so-called progressive Republicans—are to win a great victory. They have been demanding such a convention to readjust the convention of last year. Senator Cummings of Iowa, has been one of their chief desire sonas to be to hold the convention in the Mississippi valley in connection with which location Chicago, Kansas City and St. Paul come into the limlight. Chicago say, that if the basis can be changed as to reduce the influence of the southern states in future conventions, a long step will have been taken toward bringing about party harmony. The conservative forces within the party for a long time opposed any change, as a reapportionment but were finally induced to withdraw their opposition. It is reported that the order for the convention will not be made by the national committee on Dec. 16, by practically unanimous vote.

MATTY'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

BY CHRISTY MATHEWSON

THE GIANTS' STAR PITCHER

If any reader whose eye falls on this article is a golf player and happens to make a tour of the California courses, before the winter is over, let him not wonder where all the recent scars on them have come from. I can give you the address of the young fellow (some of them call him an old fellow now) who is having the time of his life on them, playing a game that he just took up last summer. I intend to devote most of my attention this winter to the Los Angeles course, but, so as not to make any of them feel jealous, I'll give them all a rumble wherever I happen to be.

I am getting to be a regular golf player, I talk about "my game" and tell stories and wear a thistle in my button hole. And when I was in Sacramento recently, I heard a good golf yarn that was new to me. If you have heard it, skip it.

"That was a fellow came out here to play one day," said the man with the California rights to the story, "and he didn't know the game. He was just learning.

"'What do you try to do?' he asked. He was poised on the first tee.

"'See that flag away over yonder?' I said.

"'Yes.'

"'Well, there is a hole at it, and you try to get the ball into that hole.'

"He took out his driver and made a swipe at the ball. When he followed it up, the ball, with a beginner's luck was within three feet of the cup. The new man's face fell.

"'By gosh, I missed it,' he said.

But this was to be a baseball story. Since leaving the world's tourists in Tacoma when they were about to sail, I have not thought much about the game, and I don't intend to look a baseball full in the face again until next spring at Marlin. I do not regret that I am not on my way around the world, although it was a grand party and would have been a nice trip. This state of California looks pretty good to me, however, and I am not its press agent.

The biggest development in baseball for a good many years, to my mind, is the almost positive selection of Governor John K. Tener of Pennsylvania to head the National League. It shows how the game has developed when a man who holds down the governorship of one of the biggest and wealthiest states in the union is willing to take the presidency of the league. It means that baseball is one of the country big things of this country, and that, in spite of its wonderful development within the last few years, it is still on the way up. I believe that the time will come when people will be surprised to know that a crowd of 30,000 persons at a game was considered big. The day is not far distant when as many as fifty or sixty thousand persons will be present at important contests. It would not surprise me to hear of games being attended by 100,000 spectators before they finally reach pressure for the black box. Crowds of this size see the big football matches in England, and baseball certainly has more magnetism. The desire to attend world's series contests has indicated this advance for some time. Ten years will make the latest stadiums cramped quarters for the average crowd.

The candidacy of Governor Tener marks a step that the National League has been preparing to take for some time. I has long been realized by the level headed club owners that they must get some good, strong men to lead their organization for a term of years, a man who could dictate the policy of the league and who could make the club owners abide by his dictation. The American League, under the strong leadership of Ban Johnson, has been making big strides in the last few years, and the impression has come home to the National that it must make a decided stand or fall behind. Governor Tener is a big man, and he will make a great leader.

It pleases me greatly to think that I have lasted in a game that has grown so rapidly and splendidly until, today, it can command the leadership of a great state's governor. If Governor Tener is selected, and all the indications now are that he will be, he will probably lead the National League for a much longer period than the term to which he is first elected. In spite of the harmony in organized baseball, the National League is going to make a determined fight to regain its old position. Unusual efforts are being made by all the clubs this year to scurry up new talent and build a league of good strong clubs that will draw the patronage. There is also an impression in the National League that it would not do any harm to win a world's series. The selection of Governor Tener will be a big step toward the strengthening of the league to my mind. There is a lot of real rivalry between the two Big Leagues right at this minute, but, with Governor Tener in the National saddle it will increase mightily, I am sure, and all to the good of organized baseball.

In closing, let me return to golf for a minute. Some ball players think the game hurts their hitting, and others believe that it helps, because it makes the eye more accurate. "Sam" Crawford was telling me a story about "Ty" Cobb when we were on the trip across the continent.

"Cobb was behind Jackson in the batting of the batsman at one time last season," said Crawford, "and he was worrying. He went out and played golf one morning in Detroit and did not get a hit in the double-header against Boston that afternoon.

"I'm going to quit that game until the end of the season," announced "Ty".

"He put his golf clubs in moth balls and never played again during the season. He also beat out Jackson. Was it really golf that hurt his hitting or the notion that it did? Anyway, he started to bat as soon as he quit."

Well, I got the third hole in bogey today. I'm going to challenge "chief" Bender to a golf duel.

SUMMER SPORTS SEEM TO BE IN VOGUE IN 'PEG

Horse Racing and Golfing Are Favorite Pastimes Thereabouts.

NO SIGNS OF WINTER ARE APPARENT AS YET

No One Remembers So Mild a Fall in Western Country.

Winnipeg, Dec. 5—Flipping nickles to decide whether to do Christmas shopping or play a game of golf is an unusual experience in Winnipeg. None the less unusual, however, is the holding of the ice races on the dirt track of the exhibition grounds with wheels instead of runners. The baseball teams also are resurrecting last year's uniforms for a Saturday exhibition game. In fact, the whole sport world of Winnipeg is writing new schedules on the back of its winter program. The mild weather fails to carry any promise of winter and a general realignment of sporting events is under way.

The Winnipeg golf club links are daily in use, while for Saturday two senior league teams have announced an exhibition baseball match.

In the field of general endeavor the spring-like weather is proving a benefaction, the building and allied open air trades continuing their work unabated. The city asphalt plants, usually shut down long before December, only closed this week, and the street workmen only stacked their tools a few days ago.

The street cleaning department is still active as are many other departments which the winter usually clamps down in November. Old-timers again find pleasant occupation, and go back to the far back pages of their memory to find as mild a fall and as favorable a winter.

ENGLISH FENCERS IN AMERICA

Team Will Come to Compete Against Bostonians.

Boston, Dec. 5.—A team of English fencers and broad-swordsmen will come to this country next February for a competition against a team representing the Amateur Fencers' League, according to an announcement made at the Boston Athletic Association. It is expected that each team will consist of four men. Arrangements are under way for a series of elimination bouts to determine the make-up of the United States team, for which several Boston men are candidates.

NO CONTRACTS WITH FEDERALS.

President of Baseball Players' Fraternity Denies Published Report.

New York, Dec. 5.—President David L. Fultz, of the baseball players' fraternity, issued a statement last night in which he decried a report that a number of major league ball players, members of the fraternity, had signed contracts to play with various clubs in the Federal league in 1914.

SOCCER MAY PLAY WITH PROFESSIONALS

Amateurs Will Not Lose Their Standing in Such Games—A.A.U. and U.S.F.A. Reciprocate.

New York, Dec. 5—The American A.A.U. has accepted the soccer association's applications, giving two amateurs of the latter body the right to play with or against pros, without losing their standing. The finality was obtaining the signatures of Alfred J. Lill, Jr., as president, and Jas. E. Sullivan, the secretary of the A.A.U. of the United States. The articles of alliance between that body and the United States of America football association, which governs soccer in this country, were ratified at the latter's recent meeting in the city, and henceforth the A.A.U. and U.S.F.A. will have common interest.

The Sensible Solution of that Christmas Problem—

"Give him a Gillette Safety Razor"

Why sensible?

Because the Gillette is a real gift for a real man—a gift that is sure to be appreciated.

It doesn't merely look fine, though the Gillette is certainly hard to beat in that particular. It appeals to a man's hard-headed business sense as well as to his good taste, for it gives him, every day in the year, a service whose equal he could not get from any other source.

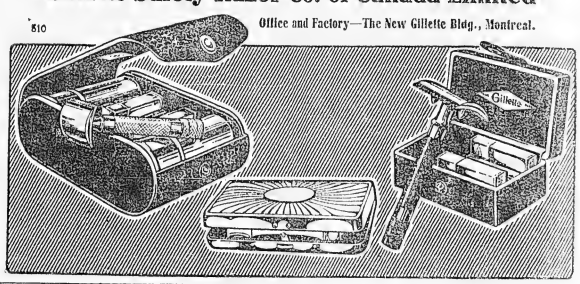

The gift of a Gillette is a compliment to any man, for a decade of use has proven it undoubtedly the best razor that money can buy.

From Standard Sets, Pocket Editions or Travellers' Sets, in gold, silver or gunmetal finish cased in leather or polished plate, you can select a Gillette exactly suited to any man's tastes or habits. Standard Set (shown at right in lower panel) costs $5.00. Pocket Editions (centre, below) cost from $5.00 to $6.00. Combination or Travellers' Sets (right above and left below) run from $6.50 up.

Your Druggist, Jeweler or Hardware Dealer should be able to show you a good assortment. If not, write us and we will see that you are supplied.

WILL THOW OVER THE DOMINION ASSOCIATION

Ottawa Football League Likely to Give Support to Amateur Athletic Association.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—Local soccer men are unlikely to give the D.F.A. any support in their fight with the A.A.U. of Canada. In fact, the chances are that the local soccer body which will control ten teams next season, will throw the D.F.A. overboard and will recognize the authority of the amateur ruling body.

"I think that the D.F.A. made a great mistake in deciding to cross swords with the A.A.U. over the question of pros and amateurs competing with and against each other," declared President James Muir, of the Ottawa City league. "It is going to practically bar Canadian players, who participate in other sports, out of soccer, and will lose to the game all the progress made in establishing it as a Canadian sport. We will have to look to the Old Countrymen coming over, who take part in none of the other sports, for our players at all times, and this will make the game an Old Countrymen's game entirely, and all our support will have to come from Old Countrymen. It looks a big mistake to me, and I hardly think the Ottawa soccer men will back up the D.F.A. in their fight."

Other local soccer men take about the same view of the question, feeling that they do not desire the mixing of amateur and pro., and therefore, see no reason why they should be placed outside the amateur pale simply for the sake of the D. F. A.

There are a number of Canadians playing soccer in the Ottawa City league who would be unable to compete if the league was placed outside the amateur pale. Gordon Willis, of the Ottawa Intermediates, plays with the Guards, and the Y.M.C.A. have a number of men playing soccer who participate in other sports. If the Ottawa City league supports the D.F.A. in their fight for the mingling of amateurs and pros. it will mean that every one of these men will be unable to play soccer and take part in other games.

REGINA HAS MATINEE MEET.

Drivers Doff Their Coats While Racing Although Curling Season Open.

Regina, Dec. 5—Although the skating season has opened and it is expected curling will commence on Saturday, a matinee race meet was held here yesterday on the exhibition track, under weather conditions which induced many of the drivers to doff their coats. A good program was provided, and in one event interest was so keen that the drivers remained and put on an extra heat for their own satisfaction.

The average smoker can give no reason for his cigar preference—he either likes a brand or he doesn't.

When you first try

Webster's Clear Havanas

you will say "Good!" without knowing why you find them superior. But it may interest you to know why. It's because, first of all, we carefully select the pick of Cuba's leaf crop—and then use only highly skilled labor to convert that leaf into cigars.

Not every man will prefer this brand—but 99 out of every hundred will.

WESTERN HORSES WINNERS.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—At the International live stock show yesterday the judging of the horse classes, in which Saskatchewan was interested, was completed, and the western horses have a phenomenal record of wins to their credit. Twenty horses were shown and there are 20 prizes to carry home. In only one class did they not get in on the money.

FROM EDMONTON TO VANCOUVER BY AUTO ROAD IN NEAR FUTURE

Victoria, Dec. 5.—Within the next year or two British Columbia will possess an up-to-date highway extending from Kamloops to Tete Jaune Cache, and giving connection through to Edmonton, stated Thomas Taylor, minister of public works, yesterday. The provincial government has already established a good road for about 90 miles north of Kamloops along the North Thompson river and it is to be extended later north to Tete Jaune Cache, where it will meet the highway built by by Grand Trunk Pacific contractors east and west.

The next two years at the outside should see a road in existence from Kamloops to Edmonton, it is believed, and later motorists will be able to run from Vancouver to Kamloops and then through to the capital of Alberta.

ENGLISH POLOISTS WANT TO PLAY MATCH IN JUNE

American Polo Association Will Probably Accept Challenge Although They Usually Play in Fall.

New York, Dec. 5.—Secretary Wm. A. Hazard, of the American Polo association announced the receipt today of the challenge of the Hurtingham club of England for a series of matches to be played for the International Polo cup in this country next year. Much to the surprise of the American Polo authorities the English club requests that the games be played in the early part of June instead of the fall, as had been previously intimated would be the case.

Although no official statement regarding the acceptance of the challenge will be made until after a meeting of the Polo association it is understood on good authority that the challenge will be accepted and the game played on about the dates requested by the Hurtingham club.

PITCHERS SHOULD NOT WORK DURING WINTER

Clark Griffith Says There is a Limit to Everything, Including a Man's Arm.

Washington, Dec. 5—Clark Griffith does not approve of his pitchers doing any work in the winter, such as playing in exhibition games. The Washington manager also states that the great pitcher used poor judgment when he went at full speed against the New York Giants. Here is what Griffith has to say on the subject:

"I am very much surprised to hear that Johnson has been pitching at top speed in games in the West since the season closed," said Griffith. "It seems to me that he should appreciate the effort I made last season to keep from overworking him. He has a wonderful arm, no doubt, but there is a limit to everything, and by pitching in these games he is not treating himself or the club as he should.

"I know from experience that it does a pitcher no good to work after the season is over. It shortens his career, and I shall have an understanding with my pitchers in the future on this question."

TODAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS.

1750—Tom Johnson, whose real name was Jackling, was born in London. In his youth he was a porter on the wharves of the English metropolis, and, while not large of frame, he attained remarkable muscular development. He manifested great speed and generalship in the ring, and before he was 20 had fought his way to the championship. He was five feet ten in height, and weighed about 190 pounds, but he whipped Isaac Perrins and many other men much larger than himself, holding the title against all comers until 1881, when he was whipped by Benjamin Brain. Johnson was past forty when he retired from the ring, and even then he was able to defeat all but the best of the heavyweights.

1893—Kid Williams, bantamweight boxer, born at Copenhagen, Denmark.

1910—Johnny Conlon defeated Charley Harvey in 10 rounds at New Orleans.

1912—Jack Britton stopped Billy Bennett, Irish lightweight champion, in 10th round at Brooklyn.

ALTROCK HUSTLES BOARDS AND SCANTLING NOW

Edict Against Comedy Hit Home Hard —May Return to Washingtons.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Nick Altrock, five years ago one of the best pitchers in the American league, today was hustling boards and scantling in a lumber yard near the White Sox ball park. Before getting the job in the lumber yard Altrock was given work by the White Sox ground keeper as a member of a gang sodding the outfield. For this period 40 cents an hour.

Altrock still is a member of the Washington Americons, but he was hard hit by Ban Johnson's edict against comedy on the coaching lines. He hopes to work with the Washington's again next season and says he will try to get his arm in shape to perform in the box.

WILL NUMBER PLAYERS.

Coach Stagg Says Rooters Should Know the Men.

Chicago, Dec. 5—Coach Alonzo Stagg, of the University of Chicago, expressed the opinion yesterday that before the end of the 1914 football season every big football team in the West will have adopted the system of numbering its players.

Directors and managers of the Western Intercollegiate conference, composed of the "Big Nine" universities, Wednesday night agreed to number the players in the first two games in 1914, and if the experiment is satisfactory to continue it all season.

Coach Stagg was appointed to devise a code by which officials might inform the rooters of the reasons for various penalties.

It was announced after the meeting that the fourth annual conference indoor track and field meet will be held in the North-Western gymnasium on March 21. Baseball and track schedules for 1914 were adopted.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

CURED A BAD ATTACK OF ECZEMA.

All skin diseases such as Eczema, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Rash, Boils, Pimples, and Itching Skin Eruptions, are always caused from the blood being in a bad condition, and it is impossible to eradicate them from the system unless you put your blood into good shape. This you can very easily do without the slightest trouble by using Burdock Blood Bitters.

It drives out all the humor from the blood, and makes it pure and rich, and not only cures the unsightly diseases removed, and a bright clean complexion produced, but the entire system is renovated and invigorated at the same time.

Mrs. G. A. Day, Somerville, N.B., writes:—"Last spring I had a bad attack of Eczema. I tried several patent medicines as well as the medicine of a physician, but they seemed to make the disease worse. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and I did so with the result that in two weeks time the sores began to disappear. I continued to take it until I had taken three bottles and they worked a complete cure."

SPORTOGRAPHY

Kid Lavigne, Greatest of Lightweights, 44 Tomorrow

George "Kid" Lavigne, greatest of modern lightweight boxers with the possible exception of Jack McAuliffe, was born in Bay City, Mich., of French-Canadian parents, 44 years ago come tomorrow. Since his retirement from the ring Lavigne has been a jack of all trades, and has had many ups and downs, principally downs. The vast sums of money he earned in the ring slipped through his fingers. For a time he conducted a saloon in Detroit, but it was a losing venture. A year or two ago it was reported that the kid was a physical and mental wreck, but he pulled himself together, climbed aboard the water wagon, and worked such a physical transformation in himself that he thought seriously of having another try at the biff game. It has recently been suggested that Lavigne and Dick Burge, the former English lightweight champion who was defeated by the Saginaw kid in a memorable bout, could make a good thing of it by touring the two-a-day houses of America, and there is little doubt that all the old-time fight fans would flock to such an entertainment. Lavigne might do a clog dance, for during his championship days he was fonder of clog dancing than of boxing. He was fond of all sorts of dancing, and had an ambition to shine in the ballroom and on the stage.

As a youth Lavigne developed his muscles by loading salt on barges at Saginaw, Mich. He first put on the gloves with Tommy Ryan, then welterweight champion, and liked the game so well that he soon determined to adopt it as a profession. In one of his first important bouts, that with Andy Bowen at New Orleans, his opponent was killed. Other early bouts were with George Siddons, Lavigne's first session with that iron fighter going 77 rounds to a draw, and the second 55 rounds with the same result. In 1891 he whipped Joe Sotto in San Francisco, and then cleaned up a number of other lightweights, after which he whipped Joe Walcott, the great negro welterweight, in two fierce battles. In 1896 Jack McAuliffe retired the undefeated lightweight champion, and Lavigne took over the title. He went over to London and fought Dick Burge, who was then nearer a middleweight than a lightweight, and whipped him. Dissipation and drink then got in their work with Lavigne, and in 1899, at Buffalo, he lost the decision and the title to Frank Erne. A little later the great little French-Canadian was knocked out by George McFadden, and his ring career was over.

CUPID KNOCKS OUT PACKEY McFARLAND.

Announcement is Made that Fighter Will Marry Joliet Girl.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Patrick McFarland, one of the most clever and scientific boxers who ever pulled on a glove, has at last met his match, and for the first time in his successful pugilistic career Packey has taken the count.

Although it was not the fault of bad match makers, a feature of the prize ring which has resulted in cutting short many a fighter's promising career, Packey was unable to stave off defeat. Like many other fighters and men in other lines of athletic endeavor, McFarland has succumbed to no other person than Dan Cupid, conqueror of them all.

On some day in the good old spring time the south side Irishman will marry Miss Margaret Loughlin, a popular and pretty Joliet girl. The engagement was made secretly but before Packey fought "Harlem Tommy" Murphy in New York on October 17.

This news explains Packey's many mysterious trips to the prison city. Whenever McFarland engaged in a fight out of town the first thing he did after his return to Chicago was to catch a rattler for Joliet. Only a few friends knew the reason. It has taken the pride of Chicago three years to win Miss Loughlin.

BLOODED STOCK SOLD.

London, Dec. 5.—The Newmarket blooded stock sales so far have realized a total of nearly one and a half million dollars. One hundred and forty-five lots changed hands yesterday at an aggregate of $322,980.

Sir William Nelson paid the highest price of the day when he bid $23,625 for the six-year-old gallinute mare Salamanca from Gilpin's stud.

The next highest price was paid for the well bred Quair from the Duke of Portlands string, which was bought on behalf of an American sportsmen, Mr. Cochrane, for $14,750.

GREAT DAMAGE BY STORMS.

Christiania, Norway, Dec. 5.—Great damage has been done by the violent storms which have been raging on the Norwegian coast for the past fortnight. Several ships have been lost, and all fishing craft have been compelled to seek refuge at the various ports. Five of the crew of the liner Bergensfford were drowned while trying to reach shore in a boat at Bergen.

CENTRAL RINK IS SCENE OF ACTIVITY

Dominions and Pennants have Lively Try-outs—Other Teams at Work.

The Central rink, although not just an ideal one for hockey, was initiated into the charmed circle of hockey arenas last night, when for two hours it was the scene of some lively hockey activities. About six o'clock the Dominions took possession of the ice for a tryout, and it was apparent to those that watched the practice that the Dominions are a fast bunch of hockey players and know how to handle their sticks. Roy Goodridge turned out with the boys and showed good form. Court May was in good and had to more than keep his eyes peeled. Court more than lived up to his reputation of former years.

From 7 to 8 the Pennants, both senior and intermediates turned out for a practice and although they mixed up for an hour or so the work was not as satisfactory as it might have been. To begin with the weather was not altogether what it should be for a good game, added to this, as was broadly hinted, was the lazyness of some of the seniors, and the poor lighting and soft ice all tended to a disappointment. Despite all this the intermediates gave promise of fast hockey and should put up some first class hockey during the coming season, they are exceptionally fortunate in having so much first class material to choose from. Manager Somerville is not quite so fortunate with the seniors as he has not very much to choose from, but if all accounts are true, he has a couple of players in sight who, when combined with the present material, should make an almost invincible team.

The south siders have been plugging steadily at the High Level rink, and from all accounts they are a match for anything that the north side can produce.

That the local senior league will be a close race, seems assured as all the three teams feel confident that they are just a wee bit better than the other ones, and there seems no doubt but what they all are evenly matched and some good hockey is promised for the local hockey fans.

LUSH TURNED DOWN.

Cincinatti, Dec. 5.—The National Commission has dismissed the claim of W. L. Lush, scout for the New York American League club last season, for two months' salary. The New York club claimed that it engaged Lush from month to month, and did not agree to engage him all season. The National Commission supported this claim.

In another finding, the commission reinstated Player Earl Henns, of the St. Louis National League club, into good standing in organized baseball without the infliction of a fine.

TOOK OUT $250,000 POLICY.

Now Court Asked to Decide Whether Howard Spence Was Drowned in Burrard Inlet.

Vancouver, Dec. 5.—Was Howard Spence drowned in the north arm of Burrard inlet was the question that the court was asked to decide Wednesday when his widow sued the Sun Life Insurance company to recover damages of $250,000.

Spence and a number of others took a gasoline launch in the inlet in March, 1912, and the evidence of those aboard the launch was that he fell overboard. In February of the same year Spence had taken out a policy for the sum mentioned, and paid the first premium of $20,000. He stated at the time that his reason for having such a large amount on his life was that he was in fear of being assassinated.

Spence was a native of Australia. The lower court rendered a verdict in favor of the company and the case is being appealed again.

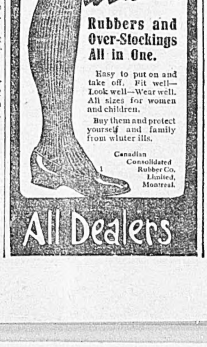

RECEIVES SIX MONTHS SENTENCE.

Toronto, Dec. 5.—Cecil W. Irwin pleaded guilty in the general sessions Wednesday to the charge of obtaining $1,200 from the Trust and Guaranty Co. by false pretences.

Restitution has been made by the young man's friends. Judge Morgan, however, declared the offence a serious one, and sentenced him to six months in the central prison.

PURE ENGLISH CAMPAIGN.

London, Dec. 5.—The latest Oxford movement is an association of learned professors to encourage the campaign for the speaking and writing of pure English, started by the poet laureate, Robert Bridges. It is supported by Thomas Hardy, the novelist, and Sir Walter Raleigh, professor of English literature at Oxford university, and other prominent men.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

A Pure Cream of Tartar Powder

Dr. Wm. Sedgwick Saunders, Medical Officer of Health of the City of London, Eng., was good enough to say that a long and universal experience has proved a cream of tartar powder the most efficient, safe and economical, making food which could not be deleterious to the most delicate stomach.

In England the sale of baking powder containing alum is absolutely prohibited.

The cash demand for all grades wheat was poor and offerings heavy, while the advanced prices threw export bids out of line.

Cash flax closed 1¼ to 1¾ ct advance.

Montreal, Dec. 5.—The higher prices established in Wednesday advance were well maintained in the local stock market today and in some instances further gains were recorded. The chief feature being provided by a rise of 2 3-8 in Richelieu which closed at top price of 111. Ball tlephone, heavy for some das around 139½ was apparently relieved of some liquidating pressure and rebounded sharply on purchases of a couple of lots in the afternoon, touching 143 in a broken lot ransaction and finishing 143¼ against 139 the previous day. Ottawa power rose 2 to 166, laurentide 1-2 to 167½ and Textile ½ to 83½ closing 83 5-8 bid.

C. P. R. was firm today early at 225 7-8 to 225¾, but fell back in the afternoon to 225¼.

Brazilian was firm around 86¾, but final quotations were shaded 1-8 from the previous days.

Richelieu in which transactions footed up more than 1500 shares, rose steadily from 108 5-8 at the morning opening to afternoon it held firm at the advance on 111 in a fairly active market. In the a smaller volume of business.

Toronto, Dec. 5.—Receipts at the union stock yards yesterday were 133 cars, with 1,330 cattle, 220 calves, 2,597 hogs and 1,309 sheep and lambs.

There was a good clean up of the market today at steady prices for butcher cattle of practically all grades, a few rough canners and cutters going at little lower than early in the week.

Good to choice quality was in active demand. The auction sale of the prize winners at the fat stock show will open Monday morning Sheep and lambs are good and steady, particularly the light lambs.

Hogs are a little on the week side and are quoted 5c lower with prospects lower next week.

Today's quotations:—

Butcher cattle choice 800 to 850; Medium 650 to 750; Common 550 to 600; Butcher cows, choice 525 to 650; Good cows 450 to 500; Medium 400 to 425; Common 350 to 400; Butcher bulls choice 525 to 650 good bulls 550 to 625; Rough bulls 525 to 300; feeders 600 to 650. Feeding bulls 475 to 650. Stockers 525 to 625; Medium 400 to 425; Light 350 to 450; Canners and cutters 350 to 380; Milkers choice each $60 to $100; Common and medium each 25 to 45, Springers 50 to 60; Spring lambs 850 to 870; Light ewes 500 to 525; Heavy 325 to 350 Bucks 350 to 380, Hogs fed and watered 840 to 850; Off cars 870.

Tornto, Dec. 5.—The stock market continued to show an increase of interest and a demand for stocks. Brokers generally expressed belief that the apex of the stringency is past, and that from now on the trend will be the other way. Price changes continue slight and there is no bull market yet. Brazilian was quiet at 86¾ to 86½ and barcelena sold at 32½. The demand for the Twin City, which sprang up recently is still unsatisfied, and the stock advanced to 106. It was one of the last active issues, the other active issues being Richelieu whose activity was ascribed to Montreal operations, which are in turn supposed to be due to the further progress made in the direction of rounding out the merger, as indicated by the payments being made. Crows Nest coal, which sold last week at 50 sold five points higher, and more was wanted at that figure. In the banks the chief of activity was in commerce shares.

New York, Dec. 5.—After a day of contradictory movements, the stock market yesterday closed with the favorite shares showing irregular changes of insignificant proportions. In the forenoon prices eased off slightly. Later there was a general advance in which yesterday top figures were eclipsed. In the final trading the market once more reversed itself, in a quick raction which forced some of the leaders below the proceeding days close. Dealings were principally professional.

The drop in the prices late in the day was influenced by renewed tension in the money market. Call money advanced to 8 per cent, which induced hurried selling of the specualtive holdings.

Aside from the flurry in call money, there were no developments of importance today to influence the market. Further cuts in steel products, and the closing of a comparatively small steel mill were reported. Copper shares were affected unfavorably by unsettled market conditions abroad. October earnings of the southern railroads, which contract favorably with those of the systems in other secti ns, caused a further advance in some of the stock of the Southern carriers.

Troubled With Weak Back and Kidneys For 10 Years.

Many people fail to understand the significance of a lame, weak, sore or aching back.

When the back aches or becomes weak it is a warning that the kidneys are affected in some way.

Take notice to the warning and cure the backache on the first sign, for if you don't do this, serious complications are sure to arise and perhaps develop into Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's Disease, the three most deadly forms of kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills will strengthen the weak back, and prevent any form of kidney trouble entering the system.

Mrs. Ed. Boyer, Nokomis, Sask., writes:—"I have been troubled with weak back and kidneys. I had terrible dizzy headaches, and could not sleep at night. In this way I suffered for ten years, until I read about Doan's Kidney Pills. I purchased two boxes, and as they helped me, I sent for two more; they put me on my feet, and I have been able to work ever since."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents a box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's."

Bonds were firm. Total sales par value were $850,000.

U. S. two coupon advanced ½ on call.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Assertions that the Argentina crop is a failure in the south and poor quality in the north put the wheat market yesterday at the mercy of the bulls. Closing figures were steady at ⅝ to ¾ net advance. Oats finished with a gain of ¾ ot ⅞ to 1. Latest Argentine reports concerning wheat estimated a reduction of 30,000,000 bushels from last year's total. Part of the injury was attributed to frost in the south, where the acreage is large and the plant is a the sage of bloom. Advices were current also that Russian offerings had become scanty, and that the Russian crop had been officially over-estimated. Prospect of a further falling off in receipts northwest of here as soon as bad weather sets in, added to sentiment against the bears. Increased feeling of wheat to livestock west of the Missouri river and the fact that in some sections fields are oo wet to afford pasurage, tended to prevent any important reaction in prices. Active demand at the seaboard helped to maintain the market.

Oats made a decided spurt on account of the meagreness of primary receipts. There were also bullish reports from Winnipeg.

New York, Dec. 5.—Copper quiet, standard, spot and futures not quoted. Electroltic 1475 to 1500; Lake 1500 to 1550; nominal; casting 1425 to 1450; London, steady; spot, £65 17s. 6d.; futures, £64 12s. 6d. Tin weak, spot and December 3800; January 3800 to 3837; February 3812 to 3850; March, 3825 to 3850; London weak; spot £174 2s. 6d.; futures, £175 5s. Lead quiet, 405 to 415; London, £17 10s. Spelter quiet, 515 to 525; London, £20 12s. 6d.; London iron quiet and unchanged; Cleveland warrants, 49s. 3d.

Bar silver, 57¾.

CANADA AT PANAMA.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—The Canadian exhibit at the Panama Pacific exposition is now on its way from Ghent, Belgium, part of it going around the horn, and the rest across the isthmus by the Tehunatepec railway to its destination at the San Francisco exhibition. QUESTION OF HOUSING RECEIVES CONSIDERATION

Crowded Conditions of Cities Necessitates Larger Buildings Where Humans Swarm and Burrow.

Cincinnati, Dec. 5.—The growth of cities in America is causing the inhabitants tc live like ants, declared Geo. E. Hooker, civic secretary of the Chicago civic club, at the third annual session of the annual conference of housing here Wednesday. Crowded conditions in the larger cities necessitated large buildings where human beings swarmed and required burrowing into the ground to give them means of transportation to and from their places of business he said.

His address was on "Garden cities" and Mr. Hooker pointed out the advance which has been made in giving breathing spaces and parks to city dwellers. Light, air, land, and a reasonable amount of the amenities of the home life is being denied to thousands in cities on account of crowded conditions and this, he said, the garden city would prevent.

Comments on the address were made in three-minute talks by Warren H. Manning, landscape designer, Boston; Frederick Bischell, Cook County, real estate board, Chicago; Richard B. Watrous, secretary American Civic association, Washington, and Alcide Chausse, city architect, Montreal.

Another division of the conference listened to an address by Arthur C. Comey, of Boston, on "co-operative housing."

FOUR YEAR CLOSED SEASON

Canadian and American Fish Commissioners Will Confer on the Subject.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.—An interesting subject to be dealt with at the conference to be held in Ottawa this month between Prof. Prince, dominion fisheries commissioner, and the fisheries commission of the United States is the establishing of a four year closed season for sturgeon, in order to prevent the further depletion of the inland waters of this valuable fish. Twenty years ago the catch in Canada was 1,600,000 pounds, bringing $90,000. Last year the catch was 900,000 pounds but owing to the much higher prices now received, the value was $113,000. Inquiries are coming from London dealers for caviar from the Canadian sturgeon. This is an expensive delicacy made from the eggs of the large fish when caught before spawing. The raw material for the caviar is worth $1 a pound and 40 or 50 pounds may be secured from one sturgeon. This together with the value of the flesh of the sturgeon gives the fish great value and makes conservation advisable. It is caught chiefly in the St. John river, Lake of the Woods and Lake Winnipeg, and the caviar is shipped to Germany and Russia at well as England.

WILL INDICT POLICE OFFICIAL

Alleged to be Implicated in Wire-Tapping and Fortune Telling Graft.

New York, Dec. 5.—A high police official will be indicted next week, it is expected by District Attorney Whitman, as the result of the stories of witnesses whom he will produce before the grand jury in his investigation of the alleged wire-tapping and fortune telling graft by the police.

Mrs. Jane Burnett a wealthy woman of Stroudsburg, Penna., who has given Mr. Whitman valuable information regarding the operations of clairvoyants was among those who visited the prosecutor's office yesterday. She will leave for her home tomorrow, but asserted she would return at any time she might be called upon to testify before the grand jury. Through clairvoyants who are supposed to have paid for police protection Mrs. Burnett is alleged to have been swindled of $50,000.

SOLDIER HEIR TO $10,000.

Request for Pension Leads to Discovery of Wealth.

Quincy, Ill., Dec. 5.—Wishing to establish clearly his identity when applying for a pension, Frederick Thornman, an inmate of the State Soldiers' Home, a year ago requested Rev. G. D. Hamm, of Quincy, to write to his home in Saxony for a certificate of his baptism.

The request was fulfilled, but the application of the veteran led to further investigation of family relations, and information has been received that the soldier is heir to an estate valued at $10,000.

TO MAKE FULLER PROBE

Winnipeg, Dec. 5.—The relief and license committee Wednesday decided to inquire more fully into the charges which have been made against the associated charities. Those charges consist mostly of bad food being supplied to those receiving help from the association.

MINERS MAY NOT BE TRIED

Rumors Current That Government Will Drop Remainder of Prosecutions.

Vaucouver, Dec. 5.—Rumors were current yesterday that there is a possibility of the government dropping the cases against the other miners who are to be tried in connection with the riots at Nanimo, Ladysmith and Extension on Vaucouver Island. Today 14 men were on trial in New Westminster on charges connected with the attack on strike breakers at Ladysmith and three cases are still at hearing. After the acquittal of seven men on charges which were looked upon as the most serious of the lot that are to be tried, it was conceded by many that in the event of there being further dismissals the other miners might not be tried at all. This is, of course only a rumor, but is an indication of the feeling that exists.

PRODGER WANTS MORE MONEY FROM MONTREAL

London, Ont., Dec. 5.—Goldie Prodger, who, according to reports emanating from Montreal, had been traded to the Canadians of the National Hockey association of Montreal for Jack Laviolette, by the Quebec champions, stated Wednesday that he would not report to the club managed by Kennedy unless he was paid more money than he was to have received from Quebec. Business relations in the ancient capital are also to be considered, as Prodgers contemplated starting a business at the beginning of the new year. Goldie calculated to leave the city last night, but the delayed reporting until he receives further information in regard to increased salary.

STREET RAILWAY NOTES

The high level bridge cars were held up for fifteen minutes yesterday afternoon at 5.45 on account of the breakdown of a wagon on the tracks at Bonnie Doon.

The new diamond was laid in place yesterday afternoon at the corner of Saskatchewan avenue and Fourth street, where the street railway crosses the E. Y. and P. tracks. This caused some delay on the low level line, but in future it will be possible to operate the double tracks up this avenue, which has not been possible until this diamond was placed.

The only other interruption of the street car service yesterday was due to a shortage of power in the west end, which resulted in the losing of 16 minutes on the No. 1 route, known as the Parking Plant line.

The street railway has been benefiting materially from the crowds that have been frequenting Mckernan's lake during the past few weeks, and the superintendent has therefore recommended that a grant of $30 be made weekly toward defraying the expenses of a band. He does not recommend the city making any grant for this purpose to the East End park, as during the winter this line does not warrant the expenditure.

An order has been passed by the city commissioners that after the first of the year all street railway tickets must be kept in the care of the city treasurer. Arrangements will be made for a member of this department or somone from the controller's office to visit the street car offices every morning when the fare boxes are opened and the cash and tickets counted. The old tickets will be destroyed in the central office. A requisition will be signed in the presence of this representative from the every morning, when the tickets are given out.

The records of the department on Monday, December 1, show this to be the largest Monday for the street car department in all its history outside of exhibition week during the day no less than 46,975 passengers used the cars, and the total receipts amounted to $1,876.56.

MALTA LADS HAD NOTHING TO EAT, NOWHERE TO SLEEP

Four Bright-eyed Youths from Mediterranean Appealed to Police.

HAD BEEN TO END OF STEEL BUT WERE SICK

Hadn't a Quarter Between Them This Morning and No Work.

Claiming that they were without funds to eat, had no place in view where they could rest their head for the night, four bright-eyed lads of the island of Malta filed into Captain Sampson's office on police headquarters this morning and made enquiry as to where they could find work or the immediate necessities of life.

The spokesman of the quartette, who could handle English quite fluently explained that they had been sent to the end of the steel on the G.T.P. by the G.T.P. employment agency in Toronto and after working their for some weeks had owing to sickness returned to Edmonton. They have had sufficient money to tide them over at their boarding house, 1217 Syndicate avenue, but this morning a quarter could not be raised among the four of them and they decided to appeal to the police for help.

Captain Simpson directed them to the City Relief Mission opposite the post office where Thos. R. Turnbull, the officer in charge, heard their story and proceeded to make arrangements to transfer them to Winnipeg where they have friends who can assist them.

Previous to coming to the police station they had appealed to the immigration hall on First street but Mr. Craig of that institution said although not being in the country a year they could call on the hall for help he was not able to render them any assistance, being full-up and crowded already.

The four young men, the youngest of whom is 20 and the eldest 25, are willing and able to work at anything. They had left their Island of Malta under the impression that on arrival in Canada all their troubles were over. In their plight this morning standing in the relief bureau's office one could see by the troubled faces that the disillusionment had already taken place and that things were not what they seemed even in fair Canada. Officer Turnbull told the boys that they would be taken care of today, and over night while in the meantime efforts would be made through the immigration officials to get the quartet to their friends in Winnipeg.

OVER 1200 ADMISSIONS TO POULTRY EXHIBITION

Most Successful Show Ever Held Here —500 School Children See the Birds.

Now that the Edmonton Poultry Association is bringing the most successful show in its history to a close, nothing but figures and reminiscences are now heard in the old church building at the corner of Jasper and Third —that is in momentary lulls of the crowing.

Secretary Moore informed the Capital this morning that there had been over 1200 paid admissions while the total number of those who visited the show must easily have exceeded 2000. On Wednesday afternoon about 500 school children passed through the wicket. Another goodly crowd was that of last night when the basement was more than filled with those who had come to see Mr. Lewis' expert demonstration of killing and dressing. So great was the crowd on this occasion that it was found necessary to invade the conservative committee rooms in order to accommodate the unexpected rush.

One of the features of this year's show was the unusual amount of business transacted outside the actual judging and exhibiting. At no other previous show has there been anything like the volume of buying and selling as in the one about to come to an end. Stock and eggs found an extraordinary number of buyers. Prominent among these was Mrs. George Gillies of the Bonnie Brae Stock Farm, Clover Bar. Mrs. Gillies bought by far the greatest number of prize birds which were offered for sale.

At six o'clock this evening the feathered aristocrats will begin to leave for the old home down on the farm after a week's holiday in the capital city which both onlookers and looked-at will not soon forget.

EXCELLENT TRIBUTE TO KNIGHT MOTOR

Man Responsible for the Six-Cylinder Napier Car Pays Fine Compliment.

Among the various tributes which the Knight motor has received during recent years, there is probably none more interesting to those who are following the developments of this sleeve valve type than the discovery by a Napier agent in London to the effect that Mr. S. F. Edge, a man who was more than anybody else responsible for the six cylinder Napier car had purchased a car with the Knight motor and had actually enjoyed a splendid reputation for many weeks, and it is significant that the originator of this car should have ordered for his own use the new six cylinder knight engine, which has been on exhibition at the Olympia show in London. He has come to appreciate the flexibility of the knight motor as compared with the six cylinder type of motor which he originated and developed.

ACCIDENT CAUSES BLINDNESS.

Calgary, Dec. 5.—Harry Jones, an employee of the public works department, struck in the forehead by a piece of flying debris as the result of a gas explosion, will probably lose the sight of both eyes.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Correction—In the report of the Edmonton poultry show, which appeared in the Capital last night, it was erroneously stated that Jack Moffitt had been awarded the third prize on his "A.O.V." bantams. It should have read second prize.

Successful Meeting—Pride of the West I.O.O.F. lodge No. 6 held a very enjoyable and well-attended meeting at the Blue Moon tea rooms last evening. Three new members were initiated and business was brought to a close on short session. Bro. Todd, sen., then presented Brg. Seal, chief templar, with a beautiful dinner and tea service as a wedding present from the members of the lodge. Bro. Seal responded with a suitable speech. An auction of gent's neckties given by the ladies was then indulged in and carried through very successfully. This was followed by a debate on "Socialism," at which Bro. G. Audley presided, and elected Bros. Todd, sen., R. Goodwin and J. Scott as judges. Bros. Rudder and Todd, jun., both strong advocates of socialism, were awarded a decisive victory over Bros. Bradford and Seal. A vote of thanks was given Bro. W. E. Rudder, who, by his finest and intellectual speeches as leader of the debate, delighted everyone. Refreshments were then served and a splendid meeting was concluded.

French Club Organized—A meeting was held in St. Anthony hall of the French-speaking people of the parish. Addresses were given by Mr. Cote, M.P.P.; Rev. Father Hudon, Mr. Giroux, Mr. Bilodeau, the secretary of the "Parler Francais," and a club was organized to further the interests of those who speak the French language. It was also decided to hold a meeting of the club on Sunday evening, December 14, at St. Anthony's hall, to elect officers. The French ladies will hold a reception on Sunday afternoon, December 14, in St. Anthony's hall.

C.N.R. on South Side—The Canadian Northern railway track has been laid to the new depot and freight shed in Edmonton south. Four tracks will be laid to the depot. The freight shed is practically finished, but a few finishing touches have yet to be put to the depot. The freight shed is larger than that of the C.P.R. at Whyte avenue, its walls are of corrugated iron, the freight office and one store room will be heated by steam pipes connected underground with the boilers in the basement of the depot.

Going to Peace River—G. W. Cooper of the Robertson-Davidson Co., and H. H. Stevens and H. Westman, all leading lights in the city for an eight weeks' trip to the Peace River district. They are proceeding to Athabasca, where they expect to get their outfit and will go from there to Grouard and Peace River Crossing, and will go as far north as Dunvegan.

Illustrated Lecture—An illustrated lecture will be given tonight in the Metropolitan Methodist church on "Radium, Liquid Air and Wireless Telegraphy."

Conclusion of Mission—The special evangelistic services being held in Knox Presbyterian church, Strathcona, will be concluded this evening. The Rev. R. G. Stewart of Robertson Presbyterian church will officiate. The new members will be welcomed at this service.

Will Fill in Tracks—The superintendent of the street railway department has been notified that the tracks on Twenty-fourth street are in a dangerous condition to the vehicular traffic, as they are raised above the roadway. The tracks will be filled in at once.

No Power at Peak Load Time—Superintendent Parsons has reminded the city commissioners that all motor users should be notified that they should cease taking power at the time of the peak load, from 5 to 6.30 in the evening. Superintendent Ornsby is sending out notices to the power users to this effect.

Will Resume Work Early—That construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern will be gone forward with in the early part of the year is the opinion of Oliver Hoeg and Earl Perkins, two members of the Pierish Construction company, contractors on the C.N.R. in British Columbia, who arrived in the city yesterday.

American Yeomen—The annual election of officers of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen took place in the Mechanics' hall on Wednesday evening. There was quite a large number initiated into the order. The following officers were elected: Foreman, George W. Meredith; master of ceremonies, A. B. Frasch; correspondent, R. F. Bayley; master of accounts, H. C. Hunter; chaplain, C. F. Johnson; overseer, A. H. Jones; guard, J. R. Satterfield; watchman, A. W. Hanley; sentinel, W. C. Howlett; Lady Rowena, Mrs. Gertrude Cameron; Lady Rebecca, Mrs. Col. Cameron.

Repairing Sidewalk—The sidewalk on the Conners hill road is being repaired by men from the street department. This walk has been at a rather awkward angle, and was almost useless for foot passengers.

St. John's Mission Concert—A concert will be given on Friday evening, December 5, at eight p.m., in the mission room of St. John's Mission, corner of 106th street and 63rd avenue. A collection will be taken at the door. All interested in this concert and the extension work of the church are asked to assist by their presence at this concert.

Black Preceptory—The regular meeting of King William Royal Black Preceptory, No. 804, will be held in the oddfellows' hal, over the Quebec Bank, on Monday evening at eight o'clock sharp. The business will consist of degree work and the installation of officers. Visitors cordially welcomed.

Prevention of Crime—H. B. Chadwick, provincial superintendent of neglected children, will speak at the men's meeting of the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday at 4.45 p.m. on "The Prevention of Crime." A cordial invitation is extended to all men. There will be hearty singing and a most interesting meeting. Strangers' social tea at 6.45 p.m.

McCauley Ready for Trip—Warden McCauley of the Alberta penitentiary has completed arrangements to leave on a month's holiday next week, and Deputy Warden Minn, and is only awaiting orders from headquarters sanctioning his request to go. When asked by the Capital this morning as to who would take charge in his absence he stated that the department would in all probability appoint one of officers Creighton and Lane, now stationed at Prince Albert, as they were men of long experience in prison work. In the event of the department not sending either of these officials the post would fall to Deputy Warden Columbus.

WOMEN CANDIDATES AT WOMEN'S MEETING

The local council of women will hold a public meeting this afternoon at three o'clock in McKay school for the purpose of hearing addresses from the three women candidates for the school board, Mrs. Jennie Hill, Miss Louise Moore, and Mrs. Alice Hill. All members of the W.C.T.U. should make it a point to be present in order to become acquainted with the personality and views of these ladies. All men and women are invited to attend.
